POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—John McGraw's run-hungry Giants slaughtered four Yankee pitchers here this afternoon and captured the third game of the world's series, 13 to 5.

The bludgeons of McGraw's men, which had been idle for two games, did deadly work once the Giants woke up as they trotted off the field with their first victory in the bat bag the immense crowd cheered them to the echo.

It was a game of thrills, nevertheless, a game that saw two pitching aces—Fred Toney and Bob Shawkey—battered to a pulp by the rival batters, a game patterned after the taste of McGraw and one that brought joy to the hearts of the discouraged Giant fans.

George Burns, Frank Frisch, Ross Young, Emil Meusel, Johnny Rawlings and Frank Snyder did terrific batting. Old Jess Barnes, who was not counted on as a hero, stepped in after Toney was flattened and saved the day for McGraw by pitching wonderful ball.

George Kelly and Babe Ruth, home run kings, did not get into the limelight today. The pitchers, one and all, were wily of them and Ruth had a tough day of it, striking out twice.

Here's today's game, play by play:

First Inning

Yanks—Miller up. Strike 1, missed. Strike 2, called. Miller out. He hit the third ball pitched on a liner to Frisch. Peck up. Strike 1, called. Ball 1, outside. Foul, strike 2. Peck out. He hit an easy roller to Rawlings and was thrown out at first. Ruth got a mighty cheer. Ruth up. Ball 1, wide. Ball 2, wide. Strike 1, swung. Strike 2, called. Ball 3, wide. Strike 3, missed. Ruth fanned. Swinging at the last strike. Toney worked hard on him and was given a rousing greeting as he walked to the bench. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Giants—Burns up. Ball 1, wide. Ball 2, low. Ball 3, wide. Strike 1, called. Strike 2, called. Burns flied to Meusel in right. Bancroft up. Strike 1, called. Bancroft out. He hit a roller to Ward and was tossed out at first. Frisch up. Strike 1, called. Ball 1. It was a high ball. Foul, strike 2. Foul over grandstand. Frisch singled to right. It was a solid smash which went by Ward like a bullet. Young up. Foul, strike 1. Ball 1, high. Foul tip, strike 2. Ball 2, high and wide. Ball 3, high, wide. Ball 4. Young walked. Frisch going to second and Kelly, leading National league home-run hitter coming up. Kelly up, strike 1, missed. Ball 1, low. Kelly out. He hit a bounder to McNally and was thrown out at first, ending what appeared to be a fine chance for the Giants to score. No runs; 1 hit; no errors.

Second Inning

Yanks—Meusel up. Strike 1, called. Meusel doubled to left. It was a Texas leaguer and the Yank right fielder stretched it to two bases by speedy running. Pipp up. Strike 1, called. Ball 1, inside. Pipp out on a sacrifice, Toney to Kelly. Meusel went to third. Ward up. Meusel out trying to score when Ward hit a bounder to Rawlings but he was out at the plate, Rawlings to Snyder. Ward is on first. McNally up. Strike 1, called. Ward out, McNally forced Ward at second, Bancroft to Rawlings, ending the inning. No runs; 1 hit; no errors.

Giants—E. Meusel up. Foul, strike 1. Schang made a great try for a foul off Meusel's bat but the ball dropped inside the stand. Meusel singled to right, punching the ball between Ward and Pipp. Rawlings up. Meusel out, Rawlings out. Ward, Yank second baseman, electrified the big crowd by leaping into the air and spearing Rawlings' drive with one hand. He threw to Pipp doubling Meusel. Snyder up. Snyder singled to left. Toney up. Strike 1, called. Ball 1. Snyder out trying to steal second. Schang to Ward. The Giant catcher bumped into the Yank second baseman and was booed by the crowd. No runs; 2 hits; no errors.

Third Inning

Yanks—Schang up. Ball 1. Strike 1, called. Ball 2, high, wide. Strike 2, called. Ball 3, wide. Ball 4, low. Schang walked after working the count to 2 and 3. Shawkey up. Shawkey singled to right, Schang going to third. With no one out it looked like the Yanks would score and the big crowd began cheering wildly. Miller up. Schang scored, Miller sent the crowd into a spasm of delight by dumping a Texas leaguer into right, scoring Schang. Shawkey went to second. Peck up. Ball 1, high. Ball 2, low. Ball 3, inside. Strike 1, called. Ball 4, low. Peck walked filling the bases. Ruth up. The cheers of the crowd was deafening as Ruth walked to the plate. Ball 1, wide. Toney and Bancroft conferred for a minute, evidently discussing whether to walk Ruth. Foul, strike, 1. Ball 2, high. Foul, strike 2. Ball 3, low. Ruth singled, scoring Shawkey and Miller, Peck going to third. It was a solid grounder that went skimming by Toney straight over second. Ruth's single spelled the finish of Toney. Jess Barnes was called in to take Toney's place in the box. Play was delayed a minute or two while Barnes was given a chance to warm up. B. Meusel up. Ball 1, wide, low. Ball 2, wide, low. Strike 1, missed. Ball 3, high. Strike 2, missed. Ruth out trying to steal second, Snyder to Rawlings. Peck made no attempt to leave third. Ball 4, high; Meusel walked. Pipp up. Ball 1, low. Pipp out, Rawlings to Kelly, Peck scoring on the play. Ward up. Ball 1, low. Strike 1, called. Foul, strike 2. Ball 2, wide. Strike 3, missed. Ward brought the Yank fireworks to a close, fanning. 4 runs; 3 hits; no errors.

Giants—Barnes up. Ball 1, low. Strike 1, called. Ball 2, low, inside. Foul tip, strike 2. Ball 3, high, wide. Foul. Barnes singled to left center. It was a ringing hit that fell between Ruth and Miller. A faster runner would have made a double out of it. Burns up. Strike 1, called. Burns flied to Miller in center. Bancroft up. Bancroft singled to right, Barnes being held at second. Frisch up. Ball 1, wide, high. Ball 2, high, wide. Ball 3, low. Ball 4, low. Frisch walked, the crowd jeered Shawkey for refusing to take a chance on the Giant slugger. Young up. Bases full. Ball 1, low. Ball 2, inside. Quigley threw a ball out of the game after examining it. Strike 1, called. Strike 2, missed. Ball 3, high, wide. Ball 4, wide. Barnes scored. Shawkey could not get the ball over for Young and he walked him forcing in a run. Kelly up. Ball 1, high, inside. Foul, strike 1. Ball 2, wide, high. Ball 3, high, wide. Foul, strike 2. Ball 4, high. Bancroft scored. Shawkey also

CHARGE TO COLLECT GARBAGE WILL BE ABOLISHED SOON

Council Decides to Do Away With Fees After First of Year; City Work

Here's some good news.

After the first of the year, the city of Glendale will abolish the fee system used in collecting of garbage.

The ordinance requiring citizens to buy tags if they wish garbage collected will be changed. This has been decided upon by the city council and it is probable the necessary legal steps to abolish the charge being made at present will be taken at the next meeting. The ordinance is being prepared by City Attorney Bert P. Woodard, at the order of the council.

The charge for garbage collection was put into effect last July. It was presumed to run until October 1. But it was declared necessary to continue it. Hence the long lines of citizens at the city clerk's office the last few days to secure the little red and white tags.

But, according to the present plans of the council, the charge will be abolished the first of the year.

Council to Meet Earlier

Ordinance fixing the time of meeting of the city council was presented last night, providing the council shall meet at 7 o'clock every Thursday night instead of at 8 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock on the first and last Monday of each month, providing such is not a legal holiday. If a holiday, the meeting will take place the following night.

Accept Verdugo Reservoir

Acceptance of Verdugo reservoir was authorized at the meeting of the city council last night, on motion of Councilman C. E. Kimlin, after the customary bond had been filed by Peter L. Ferry, the contractor.

City Engineer C. L. Hill reported that several new cracks had appeared, due, he said, to the expected contraction. After a long discussion it was decided, Councilman C. A. Davis refusing to vote, that the reservoir be slowly filled and tested before being given a coat of some waterproof material. Davis stated he is in favor of first placing the waterproof coat.

Cannot Raise His Pay

When J. C. Sherer resigned as city clerk and was appointed city treasurer, the council, it developed last night, promised him an increase in

E. BROADWAY AND VERDUGO CHOSEN SCHOOL'S SITE

Several Reasons Are Given by Committee for Choice of Proposed Location

The high school committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which met last night, made its official report to Secretary James Rhoades this morning as follows:

"We, the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, after investigating the several sites suggested for a new union high school and after several meetings and much time spent in investigating thte various sites, unanimously agreed to recommend the site submitted and located on Broadway, Verdugo and Colorado, containing about twenty-one and a half acres at a price of $77,500. Options have been secured on this property and are hereto attached.

"Reasons for selecting this site are because:

"Of its being most centrally located in the union high school district, which comprises Glendale, Eagle Rock, Casa Verdugo, Verdugo Woodlands, La Crescenta and Glorietta.

Reasons Are Given

"Its being located on three principal streets or highways, namely, Broadway, Verdugo and Colorado boulevard.

"Its accessibility and transportation facilities, having two street car lines and two bus lines.

"The street improvements being already in make it much cheaper than any other site offered."

This report is signed by Peter L. Ferry, chairman, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, H. V. Henry, Mrs. John W. White, H. J. E. Peters, Albert E. Cornwell, James F. McBryde, C. W. Young and W. E. Hewitt.

SITE FOR PROPOSED NEW GRAND VIEW SCHOOL OFFERED

Committee From Improvement Body Calls Attention of Board to Five Acres

A site for the proposed new Grand View grammar school was recommended last night to the city board of education by a committee from the Grand View Improvement association, consisting of E. H. Learned, 1543 Sixth street, Mrs. Myrtle Buckman and Mrs. Rossette Lucas, 1024 Vine street.

The location suggested consists of five acres bounded by Fourth street or Monterey Road, Fifth street, and extensions of Justin and Ruberta avenues.

Mrs. Buckman, chairman of the committee, called the school board's attention to the rapid growth of the district, the desirability of obtaining sufficient land for future needs, and the central location of the suggested site.

"It is building up very rapidly over there," said Mrs. Buckman, "It is going to be thickly populated before long."

Say Price Reasonable

Both the committee and the board agreed that the price of $9,500 asked by Mrs. Nettie Ellesperman for the property was very reasonable.

Dr. P. O. Lucas, member of the school board, expressed a regret that the site was not further removed from the Pacific Electric car line. Mrs. Buckman immediately called attention to the fact that the cars only run every forty minutes and could not be considered a menace to the school children. She said a nearby boulevard was considered still more dangerous. Members of the board thought that the school building itself might be located upon the side of the property away from the car line.

E. H. Learned stated that he had helped prepare the land in question for the planting of turnips a few seasons ago and knew that the ground was level and available for immediate school purposes.

A suggestion was made by David Black, member of the school board, that trees should be planted on the grounds as soon as possible.

The committee from the Grand View Improvement association admitted that it had considered a site diagonally opposite to the cemetery but had rejected it because it was so close to the graveyard.

While the school board seemed favorably disposed towards the suggested site for the new school, J. D. Hibben, president of the board, made it plain that no official action could be taken until the passage of the bonds next Tuesday.

"The only thing which will prevent the bond issue from passing next week will be the failure of the voters to go to the polls," remarked Mr. Black, during the meeting last night.

CLAUD O. PULLIAM, PROMINENT HERE, PASSES BEYOND

Respected Citizen and Well Known In Civic Affairs; Funeral Not Yet Set

Claude O. Pulliam, one of the most highly respected and public spirited men of Glendale, the senior member of the firm of Pulliam & Kiefer, undertakers, passed beyond this morning, October 7, 1921, at the family home, 114 Arden avenue, at 9:45 o'clock, after a lingering illness.

He leaves a widow and two daughters, Mrs. John Allen Legge, 951 North Louise street, and Miss Myrtle Pulliam; two brothers, Gus Pulliam of Glendale and Cal O. Pulliam of Los Angeles, also survive. Funeral arrangements will be announced later, the Knights Templar probably being in charge.

Mr. Pulliam was born December 18, 1869, at Columbia, Mo., the educational center of the state and known as the Athens of Missouri. He spent practically all of his life in the state of his birth prior to coming to California fifteen years ago. Twenty years were spent in Kansas City, Mo., where he was in the undertaking business practically all of that time, the first two years deputy coroner of the county, later managing the business of Eugene Carlatt & Sons, undertakers, for five years, and going from there to the Carol Davidson Undertaking Company, with whom he worked for five years.

Comes to California

Two years were spent with the city and park department, and after some time spent in the auditor's office of the Nelson-Morris Packing Company, he returned to the Carol Davidson Company, where he remained until he came to California.

Mr. Pulliam arrived in Los Angeles May 3, 1906, and a week later he began work for the Bresee Bros., remaining with that undertaking firm for one year. He and his family came to Glendale in April, 1907, when he opened an undertaking establishment at Wilson avenue and Everett street. Since that time he continued to be identified with every movement for the betterment of Glendale.

Mr. Pulliam has served continuously since April, 1909, as a member of the board of trustees of Glendale Union High school.

TOTAL OF $192,260 TO BE GIVEN FOR USE OF SCHOOLS

Tax Rate In Glendale Fixed at 96 Cents Per $100 for Education Work

The tax rate for school purposes in Glendale will amount to 96 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, according to information just received from the Los Angeles county board of supervisors through the county board of education.

A communication was received from Mark Kepple, county superintendent of schools, at last night's meeting of the Glendale school board announcing that $187,260 would be available for operating expenses during the fiscal year ending July, 1922, besides $17,008 for the building and maintenance fund, and $18,316 for the kindergarten fund. Of this later sum $5,000 is already due the elementary operating fund which will increase this amount to $192,260.

The general school rate for the county has been set at 40 cents by the county board of supervisors after legal investigation of the budget formulated during the summer by the county board of education. It is estimated that this will raise $89,933, of which $59,960, or the biggest portion, will be used for teachers' salaries. The law provides that 60 per cent of this fund must be used in this way. The remainder may be utilized for general school purposes.

All of the school funds contributed by the state must be used for salaries. This is based upon the daily attendance in each school district. It is estimated that $59,386 will be available from this source. This money is raised through inheritance, corporation and indirect taxation.

Altogether, it is estimated that the local district will have $113,346 available for teachers' salaries during the present year.

Fixty-six cents per $100 of assessed valuation is the rate set by the county board of supervisors for local school purposes within the Glendale district. Twenty-nine cents of this amount goes into the district special fund which may be used for salaries, maintenance expenses or unexpected emergencies; 13 cents goes into the building fund for maintenance and 14 cents into the kindergarten fund.

"Please do not plan to spend more than 95 per cent of the amount named," says Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, "because taxes may not be paid in full and unexpected needs may arise."

SO. GLENDALE CLUB WILL GIVE VOTES TO BOND ISSUE

Letter From School Board Is Considered and Favorable Action Decided Upon

At the regular meeting of the Southern Glendale Improvement club, which was held last night in the branch library building on South Brand boulevard, the report of the committee from that organization which had recently interviewed the city school board in regard to relieving conditions at the Cerritos avenue school was accepted and a motion carried unanimously that this club go on record as indorsing the $260,000 school bond election.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by the president, Stuart Street. The report of the committee composed of E. J. Morgan, Dr. W. C. Mabry and Kemper Campbell was given by Mr. Morgan. He stated that a number of the recommendations of the club to relieve the fire hazard at the Cerritos avenue school had been accepted by the school board and some of the improvements had already been made.

Letter From School Board

In regard to an appropriation from the $260,000 bond issue being used for replacement at the Cerritos avenue school, Mr. Morgan read a letter from the school board in this matter, which stated in part that in reference to the permanent improvements the board would make an earnest effort to build with the funds of the $260,000 bond issue a two-room permanent unit on the present Cerritos avenue school site, but could make no positive pledge in this regard.

Mr. Morgan stated that appropriations had already been made for the entire $260,000, but that some savings and eliminations might be made whereby funds would be procured for this unit, one of the suggested ones being the matter of leaving the furnishing of the auditorium in the proposed new intermediate school at Glendale and Park avenues until a future bond election. Also a considerable savings in the way of architects' fees could be made if plans which had been drawn for a five-unit school at Acacia and Glendale avenues could be found.

Dr. Mabry stated that the present unit at the Acacia avenue school was but the beginning of a group of buildings proposed, and as the bond election includes an amount sufficient for the erection of the second unit that a considerable amount of money could be saved if these plans could be located.

Makes Explanation

The letter from the city school board also expressed itself as desiring and intending to replace the two-story frame school buildings at Cerritos school site and also at Columbus and Doran streets with a permanent building within twelve to eighteen months.

Dr. Mabry explained that when the committee of nineteen and the school board arranged for the $260,000 bond election that the view in mind was to relieve the congestion

Ingledue of 501 East Wilson avenue, was the guest of honor at a surprise luncheon given yesterday by the members of the library staff in celebration of her birthday anniversary and also of her approaching marriage to Ellis Thomas. The members of the library staff also presented her with a very attractive picture which had been hand painted by Miss Laura Roberts.

Those present at the affair included Miss Doris Ingledue, Mrs. C. W. Ingledue, Mrs. J. C. Danford, Mrs. C. D. Shattuck, Miss Laura Roberts; Miss Leone Shattuck, Miss Dorothy Rich and Miss Alice Green.

SPECIAL BUILDING PROGRAM TO AID STATE'S LABOR

Work Will Be Given to About 30,000 Unemployed Result of Government Plans

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 7.—As forecasted in an International News Service dispatch last week, the state government has now definitely announced that a special building program will be put into effect this winter which it is estimated will afford work for approximately 70,000 of the 45,000 unemployed in California.

Egerton Shore, junior member of the State Board of Control, will be in active charge of caring for the army of unemployed. Shore is now arranging for a series of conferences with various state departments which will aid in preparing the state panacea for unemployment.

Representatives of the State Federated Trades have called upon the Governor and urged that road work be stimulated as thereby employment can be furnished for unskilled labor. The labor delegates declared that 90 per cent of the unemployed are unskilled workmen.

The labor delegates also cited statements and statistics to prove that highway work can be carried out better in the rainy season than in the warmer months. At a meeting of the Highway Commission to be held here next week, it is probable that a new road work program will be drawn up.

New State Printery

Construction of the State Printery and the $3,000,000 capital extension here will also provide work for such of the army of unemployed as may be skilled workmen.

Shore declared that California will care for her own jobless men first and issued a warning to stave off immigration of unemployed from other states.

"I think we will be able to care for the greater part of our own unemployed," declared Shore, "but I do not wish the impression to get out that we are going to provide work here for the national army of jobless men.

California chiropractors will again wage a war for recognition in the 1922 election. This became known here with the filing of initiative petitions from Los Angeles county containing 25,138 names. Two attempts have been made in the past by the chiropractors to pass a measure regulating the practice of chiropractic through direct vote. The 1922 fight will probably be a closer contest as representatives of the cause have been stationed in practically every city in the state.

Ed L. Head, who has announced that he will be a candidate for the state treasurership in 1922, has resigned his position as manager of the state archives and will establish a residence in San Diego.

William D. Stephens, governor, is known probably to every man, woman and child in the state but how many know "Bill" Stephens, fisherman? The state executive returned a few days ago from a trip into Trinity county and proudly announced that he had hooked and successfully subdued a 4½-pound bass while sojourning in the north. Furthermore the governor exhibited a picture of the battle with the member of the finny tribe to prove his story.

Something New In Furniture Is Being Exhibited In City

The Page Furniture company of 306-308 East Broadway has received the most novel line of bedroom suites ever seen here, a parchment finish which fits well in almost any decorative scheme.

Dusty walnut dining room furniture also is something new and W. A. Page invites the public to see the new finish.

Spohr's One Cent Sale Will Attract Crowds Saturday

Spohr's One Cent Sale opens tomorrow. As regular as the years roll 'round this bargain event in the drug business is held with increasing patronage. Shoppers will take advantage of the many sundries and medicines offered at two for the price of one plus a penny. Mr. Spohr is arranging for ample clerks to care for the crowds and he expects to break all sales records.

ATTEND BANKERS' BANQUET

Glendale was well represented at the elaborate banquet and ball which was given last night for the bankers who are attending the convention in Los Angeles and which was held at the Ambassador hotel. Those present from Glendale included Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith. It is stated that the music was fine and that the decorations were quite like fairyland. The eastern visitors were quite amazed at the wealth of flowers used.

Spohr's One Cent Sale starts tomorrow, Saturday, October 8. Bargains galore.—Adv.

Ralph E. Smith Wins Third Prize In Big Competition

Ralph E. Smith, 406 East Elk street, is the recipient of a $100 prize from his firm. Mr. Smith is a salesman for the A. J. Dier company, manufacturers of the coffee mills, meat grinders and the product is sold all over the country.

The company employs over 200 salesmen and each quarter gives three prizes for the greatest increase in sales. So far, until the last quarter, these prizes have always been captured by eastern salesmen, none having come west of Chicago. The company has just notified Mr. Smith that he has secured the third prize.

Mr. Smith is so jubilant that he has purchased a new Ford roadster, and, no doubt, will go in for first prize. His increase in sales over the previous quarter showed a remarkable gain and he has demonstrated that a man 50 years of age can deliver the goods in competition with the younger ones.

LOCAL ELKS FORM BOWLING LEAGUE; NAME LEADERS

Games Will Be Rolled Among Home Members; season to Last for Seven Weeks

About thirty bowlers, real and otherwise, of the Glendale Elks lodge, gathered last night in the bowling hall at the clubhouse and organized what is to be known as the House League, which is to be composed of eight four or five men teams chosen from members of the local lodge. These teams will play through a schedule lasting seven weeks and including one match with each squad against every other group, four separate matches to be played each week.

At the beginning of the meeting Captain W. C. Wattles and H. M. McGillis were chosen as temporary chairman and secretary, respectively, they assuming their positions until the following officers, who were subsequently elected as being permanent, took charge of the meeting: James A. Apffel, president; William Viohl, vice-president; Bert Ward, secretary-treasurer.

After a lengthy discussion it was decided that the prize committee, whose job will be that of properly distributing the several hundred dollars worth of awards among the individual stars and teams, would be composed of the president of the League and the eight captains of the various teams.

Captains Chosen

The following were selected as captains: Charles Talbott, Howard M. McGillis, Harry Wright, Jack West, Charles W. Urich, John MacGregor, W. H. Long and L. Hadley.

The next meeting of the League will be held next Thursday evening, when the various teams will have been selected and final plans for the staging of the tournament will be made. At that time a complete report of the numerous prizes, which have been donated by local and Los Angeles merchants, will be made, as will also the schedule of contests.

City Gets Bargain In Realty Purchase From School Board

Sold this week: One-seventh acre not far from South Brand boulevard for $10!

The most notable bargain in local real estate circles was consummated this week between the city council and the city school board. The school trustees desire a street cut through adjoining the Acacia school but found that they had no legal right to give away any of the school property. To overcome this objection they were obliged to offer the land for sale and then refuse to accept any except the city's bid. J. W. Blake, city clerk, also secured a few square feet of land on the corner of the Cerritos playgrounds for street improvements and all for the same $10.

Couple Wed, Then Bridegroom Goes to State Prison

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 7.—"When God made her, he broke the mold."

This was the emphatic declaration of Jack McGill as he kissed his wife goodbye early today to enter the portals of San Quentin prison, where he must serve a life sentence for murder.

Their wedding had taken place an hour before, Superior Judge Troutt being routed from bed to perform the ceremony. The pleadings of Meta Bell Trostel, with McGill's guards, that she be permitted to marry him, repeated over and over during the long trip here from Yuba county, finally had their effect.

"I love him and this is the last thing I can do for him now," said Mrs. McGill.

GIVES FISH TO FRIENDS

W. N. "Bud" Pierce, general assistant of the Pulliam & Kiefer undertaking company, took a day off on Wednesday and motored to Santa Monica, where he enjoyed several hours of hauling in halibut, bass, mackerel, tom cod and other denizens of the briny deep. He returned to Glendale with a sack full of fish, distributing them to a number of his friends and neighbors.

in the schools and that the matter of the Cerritos avenue school being a fire menace was not taken into consideration. He also stated that it would have been practically impossible to have included an appropriation in the bond election for the entire replacement of this frame structure, for in justice to the Columbus avenue school an amount sufficient to take care of the replacement of both buildings would have been necessary. This, he stated, would have been larger than the bonding capacity at the present time. However, within a year the bonding capacity of the city in a year or eighteen months will be sufficiently large to take care of this.

As the board of school trustees had expressed themselves as desiring to have the Southern Glendale Improvement club represented on the committee of ninenteen, which committee advises the school board in regard to expenditures of the $260,000 and so forth, a motion carried to the effect that E. J. Morgan be appointed to represent the organization in that capacity.

Support School Bonds

A motion made by Mrs. Florence Blair to the effect that the club go on record as recommending the voting for the school bonds carried unanimously.

The next matter of business taken up for discussion was that of having a membership drive. In this connection the subject of dues was considered and the conclusion arrived at was to the effect that in order that membership would be open to everyone interested that the matter of dues would be left entirely to voluntary subscription. A committee consisting of E. J. Morgan, L. C. Denman and A. J. Becker was appointed to organize a membership drive.

After discussing a few smaller items of business the meeting adjourned. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday night, October 13, at 8 o'clock, in the branch library building.

Central Ave. P.-T. A. Room Mothers Are Named at Meeting

The first meeting of the year of the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher association was held at the school building yesterday afternoon, Mrs. C. H. Crawford presiding. Miss Annie MacIntyre, principal of the school, gave an address of welcome and told of the value of the P.-T. A. to the school. Richardson D. White spoke about the school bond election to be held next Tuesday. Mrs. C. L. Viereck, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. Cartier, gave three vocal selections, "Nocturne" Chadwick); "Song from the Persian" (Chadwick), and "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" (Tate).

At yesterday's meeting room mothers were selected for the various grades, as follows: Mrs. L. H. Van Hoorebeke, kindergarten; Mrs. Harris, B1; Mrs. C. D. Care, A1, B2; Mrs. J. H. Blankenship, A2; Mrs. C. M. Taylor, Grade 3; Mrs. Aagerson, Grade 4; Mrs. Dodds, Grade 5; Mrs. O. C. Logan, Grade 6.

Many comments of praise and admiration were heard regarding the profuse display of unusually large and beautifully colored dahlias, which had been donated for the purpose of decorating the room where the meeting was held by Mrs. D. F. Reichard of Valley View Road. After the business meeting yesterday a social hour was enjoyed, during which tea and cake were served.

HELPFUL RUBBER BANDS

Small elastic rubbers like those used around rolls of paper in offices are more convenient for placing around rolls of patches or cloth left over from making a garment than using pins or strings for tying around them and presents a neater appearance in storing away. Catalogs, magazines, bunches of papers may be rolled with a rubber band and stored in smaller space.

HARD TO EXPLAIN

It is a peculiar thing that the names given live animals are of Saxon origin, but those given to meat when dressed and prepared for food are Norman. For example, the words "ox," "steer," "cow" are Saxon, but "veal" is Norman; "sheep" is Saxon, but "mutton" is Norman; so it is severally with "swine" and "pork," "deer" and "venison," "fowl" and "pullet."

SHOES TO FIT CORNS

No matter how large they may be, new shoes always hurt one's corns. The shoe-stretcher or last offers little or no relief, since it makes no impression on the shoe where it is most needed—over the corn. Dropping a little hot paraffin wax or sealing wax over the part of the last where the corn grows on the foot will cause this part of the shoe to stretch and form a depression. A valuable hint to those who are troubled with corns.

TRAFFIC COP AMAZES AMIR

Of all the sights he saw on his recent visit to London the amir of Katsina declared the crossing policeman to be the most wonderful. To be able to stop all the traffic of a street with the lifting of one hand amazed him, and he thinks, he told an inquirer, that the policeman must have four eyes.

Gives Services to City

He was one of the eleven men who gave their services to the city of Glendale for nearly a year making investigations in regard to the water situation, and known as the Water Commission of Eleven. This committee brought to final conclusion the matter of putting the question up for the people to decide whether or not the city should bond itself to purchase the holdings of the four water companies operating in Glendale. Mr. Pulliam was secretary of this commission and was one of the only two members who were in favor of the city purchasing the present water systems.

Soon after coming to Glendale Mr. Pulliam secured lots at the corner of Broadway and Louise and erected a modern and well-equipped undertaking establishment into which he moved January 1, 1909.

POWER OF THE EYE

Dr. Charles Russ, an English physician, claims to have discovered by a delicate instrument, that there is force propelled from the eye, in the ray of vision. That is quite likely. Greek writers suggested this 2500 years ago. We have long known the power of the "hypnotic eye" and the Italians believe in the "evil eye."

PLENTY OF GOODIES ON SALE AT BIG CHURCH BAZAAR

Yum! Yum! Those Cakes Are Great! Pretty Girls In Attractive Booths

"My cake is dough!"

Bill Shakespeare never had the privilege of tasting the rich, home-made cake, containing lots of real fresh eggs and loaded down with a well-made, full-flavored icing, on sale at the bazaar now in progress within the new Holy Family Catholic church. If he had attended last night, it is certain that the indigestion which inspired the above quotation would have been absent. When the "Mrs." met him at the front door with remonstrances about his having stayed out playing roulette wheels and using up all the family's grocery fund, he would have appeased her with:

"Now, Ann, I know you are having a terrible time getting those four by twelve deers. I poached last week from the king's preserve, into that old one by one stew pan. Suppose we go down to the bazaar tomorrow for supper. We can have a nice little meal and it won't be expensive, either. I'm sure it would be nicer than staying home."

And then the battle would have been on all over again!

Ann Hathaway certainly would not have liked Bill to have associated with the charming girls, attired in gaudy ballet costumes, which were among those present at last night's "festivious" festivities. In fact, it is quite likely that she would have put the blinders on him when they passed the bewitching wiles of Miss Mary M. Chapman, of 129 North Everette street, and Miss Mildred MacCoubrey, 1831 Gardena avenue, two fetching senoritas of the parish, who are in charge of the Kewpie Booth.

Children's Day Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be children's day at the bazaar, according to Mrs. W. H. Brummel, who has charge of the kiddies' booth, at which a great variety of toys, balloons, jimcracks, knicknacks, odds and ends may be purchased. It's too bad Bill can't send the youngsters.

Mrs. Shakespeare would have had a fine time shopping at the handkerchief and candy booth operated by Mrs. Frank Salmacia and if Bill knew what was good for him he would have purchased generously of its toothsome home-made sweets for sale and maybe slyly have made the acquaintance of some of the members of the Young Ladies' Institute.

Perhaps he would have been more interested in the society booth with its many practical donations from generous merchants and under the direction of Mrs. J. F. Zimmer, Mrs. George J. Blanchette, Mrs. Nicholas Bray and others.

The cooked food booth is in charge of Mrs. Reed Heustis, assisted by Mrs. Frank Bishop, Miss Adelaide Brosseau, Mrs. T. H. Morgan, Mrs. T. J. Radigan, Mrs. J. H. Bartlett, while George McLaughlin supervised the country store operated by members of the Holy Name Society.

No wonder Bill Shakespeare remarked, "Dainty bits make rich the ribs."

Science Now Able to Curb Epidemic From Russia, Claim

PARIS—The spread of epidemic in Russia in the wake of the great famine does not threaten western Europe, in the opinion of Dr. Roux, head of the Pasteur institute. Medical science has made such progress that epidemics can be checked and great cataclysms such as visited Europe in the Middle Ages can be averted.

"I believe," said Dr. Roux, "that we know enough about such epidemics as typhus, cholera and plague to protect our frontiers. Germany and Poland are the countries which face the greatest task, as they are in first line, and in their hands mainly lies the responsibility for the security fo western Europe.

"The best course open to the nations of western Europe is to associate themselves with the international relief work already on foot, and particularly to keep close watch along the Russian Polish frontier.

"Refugees who are infected or may be bearers of germs should be thoroughly cleansed, and suspected cases should be kept under surveillance for a certain period. Typhus is only carried by lice, and plague by fleas, and once these are removed, the victim is no longer a source of danger to his neighbor.

"As for cholera, vaccination is an effective preventative. It rendered great services during the war to the Greek, Rumanian, and French armies in the Near East. Typhus vaccination cannot be very widely used, as no method has yet been found of breeding the typhus microbe and the serum must be taken from infected persons, which, of course, limits the amount of serum available."

MAUDIE ON PAPA

Maudie's papa is night editor on a newspaper, a fact which Maudie apparently hasn't learned, for when someone asked her a few days ago what her father did for a living, she relied: "I div it up. I fink he's a burglar, 'tause he's out all night."

DR. J. CORT MYERS GIVES VIEWS ON JEWISH PEOPLE

No Other Race Has Suffered as Much, Says Speaker at Bible Conference Here

The topic, "What Is God Going to Do With the Jews and What Are We Going to Do With Them," proved so interesting that the large gathering at the Bible conference in the Presbyterian church last night insisted that Dr. J. Cort Myers continue his address beyond the regular period on the program.

Dr. Myers has a very dramatic appeal in his addresses and in outlining his subject last night presented many interesting, as well as somewhat startling, facts in connection with the Jewish race of today and its many activities. With forty-two out of fifty present leaders in Russia, Jews, with Jews owning or controlling some of the largest banks and stores in the United States, and with 85 per cent of them controlling the motion picture industry, the situation today, the speaker emphasized, has a tremendous political, as well as religious significance.

The plan of God, stated Dr. Myers, was that the Jews were to be the revealers of the one God; that they were to be the channel for the world's Redeemer to be at least restored and brought back to God; and that the Jews were to be the witness to all the nations of the earth.

Part Already Filled

The first two parts of God's plan had already been fulfilled and the fulfillment of these two was an assurance that the other would be, said Dr. Myers. The capture of Jerusalem by General Allenby's troops, and the steady stream of Jews pouring into that country now, are significant factors in that the final plan will be fulfilled.

"What are we going to do with the Jews?" said Dr. Myers, "we must first stop hating the Jews for the crucifixion of Christ, that was 2000 years ago, and why should we hate them now? They have paid the penalty in being persecuted. No other people in the world have suffered as they. In the European war, no people suffered more than they in every form possible.

"Then we must do away with prejudice. We must learn to love the Jew. We must learn to do it, even if there are some objectionable things about him.

"And in concluding I will say this to the Jew living in America: If I were a Jew here, I would be an American. In all the persecution, and scattering of the Jews, they have always remained distinct and intact. America has not been a melting pot for them, and the sooner the Jews learn to be 100 per cent American, the sooner will we learn to love them."

Special Music Given

A feature of the evening's program was the rendition of some special music by the church quartet composed of Mrs. Fanny Marple Retts, Miss Pansy E. Sheldon, Arthur Pratt and C. Clifford Riggs. The quartet gave "Be Thou Exalted," after which Mrs. Retts sang, "Oh, How I Love Him." Both numbers were beautifully given, and Dr. Myers paid a tribute to the church in being fortunate in having such musicians.

The afternoon meeting yesterday was addressed by Mrs. Frances Neth, who gave a very inspiring talk entitled, "The Calling of the Church." This afternoon at 3 o'clock a very interesting address will be given by Rev. W. E. Blackstone, whose address is entitled "Smiting the Image." Rev. Blackstone is the author of several prominent books, and has always brought a refreshing message to the Bible conference.

Police Force Gives J. P. Lampert Watch

A handsomely engraved gold 17-jewel Waltham watch and chain and a gold pencil were presented J. P. Lampert, retiring chief of police, by members of the department and city hall force yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Lampert was summoned into police court and Judge F. H. Lowe, in the presence of many of the officers, made a fitting speech to the former official who has given six years' service here in the interest of public safety. The latter was agreeably surprised and so expressed himself in thanking the department for its loyal co-operation during his tenure of office.

U. S. Finances Sugar Planters In Philippines

MANILA, P. I.—The Philippine government is preparing to loan $4,000,000 to sugar planters in the islands to save their sugar crop. Most of last year's crop has not been sold and the planters need money to pay their workmen, whom they owe four months' wages. The annual production of sugar in the Philippines is approximately 225,000 tons, of which more than half goes to the United States.

The government investment in the industry consists of loans amounting to $17,000,000 granted through the Philippine National bank to six centrifugal mills organized by Filipino planters.

READING IN BED

One may read in bed without excessive eye-strain if care is taken to have good light and to sit up so that you look down at the print. Reading in a prone position is usually tiresome because we look up at the type. The eye is used so much to look at objects held below its level that the muscles which turn the eyes up have become weak from lack of use and become therefore, easily tired.

NO WEATHER REALLY "BAD"

It was a wise man who contended that there is no such thing as bad weather—there are only different kinds of good weather. The hot days and the stormy ones, the rains, the winds, the snows all have their purpose, and it is always a good purpose.

WORLD'S GOLD PRODUCTION

GIANTS LACKING IN PEP; HIT POOR IN TWO GAMES

Will McGraw's Men Make Run In Series? That's the Great Question Among Fans

By JACK VEIOCK,
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Third course of the world's series was on the menu today with fine weather for flavoring.

The Giants had their spines against the wall. The Yanks were ravenously hungry for another dish of Giant meat and about as sociably inclined as a nest of hornets.

Victory in the first two games has given the Yanks the impetus of a runaway freight train rolling down hill. They will be just about as hard to stop from the looks of things now.

The Giants may make them hesitate. They probably will. But as for diverting the Yankee avalanche from the road to the world's championship, that's something else again.

Pitching has been practically the whole works so far. Mays and Hoyt have turned in two of the greatest games in world's series annals and Douglas and Nehf have been the victims of heartbreaking defeats.

Take Five Straight

At the outset nearly every one believed the Giants had the stronger pitching staff. Pitted against the Yanks two aces, it hasn't proved up. And on top of this the Yanks expect to win with Shawkey.

"Shawkey'll trim 'em. See if he doesn't. Nobody knows how hard Bob will work when he gets his chance. And his arm's not as sore as they've said it was. Wait and see."

This came from the lips of genial Colonel Huston, who wouldn't be surprised now to see the Yanks take five straight games.

John McGraw, naturally put out by two straight defeats, hoped to turn the tide today with big Fred Toney.

The Giants have a lot of faith in Toney and have always made a lot of runs for him. They think he is lucky for them and on this they built their hopes of breaking into the victory column today.

Hitting Is Joke

So far the series has been a joke from a standpoint of hitting. Ten hits for the Yanks and seven for the Giants is the grand total for the two games. The maces of the heavy sluggers of both teams have been silenced by the great twirling on both sides, and the breaks of the game or cracks in the defense of the Giants have enabled the Yanks to eke out two victories.

Miller Huggins' boys are playing snappier, smarter baseball. They have crossed even their own admirers by displaying unexpected ability to run the bases, exhibit inside baseball and put up a perfect defense. So far the Yanks have made no errors. Every man jack of the Hugmen is fielding 1.000.

They Lack Pep

The Giants are fighting hard but doing it in a lack-lustre manner.

They haven't exhibited the smart baseball that was expected of them.

In defense of the Giants it must be said that they cannot be expected to score runs unless they can hit the pill. They'll have to start hitting soon or take a humiliating beating. As one wag says, the betting now is, "will the Giants make a run in the series?"

Poverty is no disgrace, but it's hard to convince your creditors that it isn't.

LISTS MOTOR PESTS AND ASKS PUBLIC TO TAKE HEED

Automobile Club Urges Every Driver to Read and Be Sure That He Is Innocent

Motoring "pests," characterized as cooties, hyenas, snakes, foxes and hogs, who make life unbearable for the average auto owner have been listed by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

A good purpose is indicated by this listing in view of the fact that every auto driver is requested to read over this list and see if he qualifies as any one of the pests so outlined. If he does, he is respectfully requested to mend his way and think of the right of the "other fellow."

Do you belong in this list? asks the club's legal department. Read over what follows and see if you do any of the things which the club declares makes of you a pest in the eyes of the world. You ought to be ashamed to push a throttle if you do, is the way the legal department puts it.

There is the "open road pest" who scoots in front of you with his little car and then slows down to a very slow pace so that you have to pass him. Then he spurts in front of you again and the performance has to be repeated. He gets much amusement out of this procedure, and is called the "fox." If you do this sort of thing, be merciful and stop it, asks the club.

Ever Happen to You?

The "hyena" is the pest who drives fast into a mud-puddle and splashes its contents all over any pedestrians who happen to be standing near, then laughs over his shoulder as he drives away. This type of pest is very common in southern California, it is pointed out.

The "curb louse" is the motorist who pushes your car along the curb to make room for his own and leaves yours standing in front of a fire-plug where it gets tagged and you have to try and explain the circumstances to the judge.

The "cootie" is the pest who oozes into the parking space you are backing into by nosing you out from the rear. His car usually has a short wheel base which helps him in his dirty work.

Have You Met This One?

Every southern California auto driver knows the "hog." This pest operates on the open highways as well as in the cities. He is always trying to grab the right of way. He cuts in front of you whenever there is an opportunity. At safety-zones he comes around on your left and slips in front of you if he can wedge his front wheels ahead of yours. Don't belong in this category, whatever you do, asks the auto club.

The "snake" strikes at your fenders as he passes. At night he usually has glaring headlights, and he drives so near the middle of the road that he would chip pieces off your fenders if you didn't get clear over into the opposite ditch. He just "scrapes" by whenever there is the slightest chance.

Don't be one of these "pests" asks the Club's legal department and thus help make southern California a pleasant place for eastern visitors. Set good examples yourself, and the "pests" will perhaps follow in your footsteps.

Patience is the finest and worthiest part of fortitude, and the rarest, too.—Ruskin.

LINEBERGER FIGHTS IN INTERESTS OF WAR VETERANS

Congressman's Efforts Result In Feeble Attempt Made to Take Away Office

(Special Correspondence)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Why the report that Congressman Walter F. Lineberger of the Ninth California district, in which Glendale is located, and Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York are at loggerheads with the majority of their party?

Simply because they opposed the slash in the Sweet bill amendment for blinded, armless, legless and totally disabled veterans.

That was a month ago, but since that time a feeble effort was made to unseat Congressman Lineberger and other means have been taken to whip him into line. He has no explanation for the matter other than the words he uttered from the floor defending the war veterans, being one who was wounded while fighting in France for his country.

Following is his speech in part:

"It is unfortunate that Members of the House who are as vitally interested in all legislation affecting ex-soldiers, and particularly the wounded and maimed of the World War, as are the ex-service men who are Members of this House and many other Members, should be forced by a combination of political and parliamentary circumstances to express their opinions on the conference report of House bill 6611, entitled "An act to establish in the Treasury Department, a veteran's bureau, and to improve the facilities and service of said veterans' bureau to amend and modify the war risk insurance act," by speaking out of order or through the medium of an extension of remarks.

Obnoxious Provision

"One provision of the conference report, and I will mention only one, is particularly obnoxious, not only to the ex-service men of this House, but to a vast majority of the Members who sympathize with a fair and sane treatment of the disabled.

"I refer particularly to the refusal of the House conferees to concur in Senate amendment No. 56, which provides that:

> "If the disabled veteran is so helpless as to be in constant need of a nurse or attendant, such additional sum shall be paid, but not exceeding $50 per month, as the director may deem reasonable.

"The law now provides $20 per month, and this proposed amendment inserted by the Senate would have increased the amount from $20 to a possible $50 per month.

"The cry of economy has been raised. Any attempt to economize at the expense of the wounded and maimed veterans of this nation is unfitting of the American Congress and a serious reflection upon the gratitude and worthiness of the American people.

"I do not criticize my colleagues and I do not wish to be unfair, but I can not understand, and the helpless ex-service man can not understand, why the gentlemen who opposed the Senate amendment so uncompromisingly should be so overwhelmed with their sense of responsibility and economy as to insist on a recession that would save the government possibly $30 a month on the comparatively few helpless veterans affected by the deceased amendment. The country demands economy, but not this kind of economy.

"Perhaps they can explain it to their constituents. I can not, nor would I attempt to do so. The ex-service men of my district, because I am of them and for them, know where I stand, as do the rest of my constituency.

Shut Off from Debate

"It was in this consciousness and with this feeling that I have voted against the Sweet bill. I should not have done so had I felt that the bill would have failed to carry on account of my negative vote, but having been shut off from debate I have been forced to this attitude as the only means of protest against what I consider to be a flagrant betrayal of the needs of the disabled, helpless, ex-service men in reducing the amount allowed for nurse hire from a possible $50 to $20 a month.

"In this I have been joined by my colleague, comrade and friend, Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York. We feel that it will be a great deal easier for us to explain to the veterans of the country why we were forced to vote against this bill in protest than it will be for some of you gentlemen to explain to them why—in your zealousness to railroad this bill through along with the refusal of the conferees to concur with the senate amendment to which I have referred—you forced us into the attitude we have taken, which is not one of opposition to the bill itself but of protest at the tactics and methods of some of the conferees."

ARE YOUR TIRES SET BAD?

If you find one of the front tires wearing more than it should, see if the front wheels are out of alignment. Running against the curb or other obstruction will bend the steering kunckle arm and throw the wheels too far in toward each other. They should toe in slightly. If not properly set the tires will wear rapidly.

Fifth Inning

PLOT TO COLLECT FAILS

LANCASTER, Missouri, Oct. 7.—Orville Dooley, farmer, mysteriously missing since fire last April destroyed his home near Coatesville, has surrendered to officers here. He had been sought since investigators established that the charred bones in the ruins of his home were from the body of a skeleton Dooley is alleged to have obtained from a medical school at Kirksville. Mrs. Dooley, acording to officers, abandoned her efforts to collect life insurance held by her husband and when it was revealed that the charred bones were wired together.

RUMOR FRANCE CUTS TERM

PARIS, Oct. 7.—An unconfirmed report that France had granted an easier indemnity term to Germany was current here. It evidently arose from the conference which is now being held at Wiesbaden by Walter Rathenau, Minister of Reconstruction in the German cabinet, and M. Louchier, Minister of Liberated regions in the French cabinet. This is the second conference held by the two ministers for the purpose of facilitating commercial relations between the two countries.

ENGLAND WAITS TILL LAST

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The British government has decided to postpone until the last minute the departure of the delegation to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments and far east problems. The reservations on the liner Olympic have been canceled and fresh reservations made upon the liner Aquitania, which sails from Southampton, November 5. This change increases the possibility that Premier Lloyd George will attend at least some of the sessions. The conference will open November 11.

FRANCE REGAINING ENTIRE CONTROL OF FOODSTUFFS

Power of Feeding Itself Is Recovered Fast; Economic Conditions Improving

PARIS, Oct. 7.—In common with most of the world, France is hit severely by the general depression of business and economic conditions.

That usually accurate barometer of national prosperity—the importation and exportation statistics—shows storm clouds in heavy decreases in the vital items.

But in reading any statistics regarding France's economic status, figures of her terrible war losses and wonderful reconstructional effort must be considered simultaneously. To cite only a few—1,364,000 men killed, 4,571,000 acres of arable land devastated, the great industrial and coal basin of the north ruined.

These figures serve to partially nullify the statistics usually relied upon by economists.

Against these figures stand 3,420,000 acres cleared and put under cultivation, 3,645 factories resumed work out of 4,700 ruined, 8,426 miles of roads rebuilt, 2,292 miles of railways reconstructed.

Here's Opposite Side

On the opposite side of the ledger are the figures of importation and exportation. After rising by leaps since the armistice, the exports show a market setback. As compared with the similar seven months of 1920, exportations decreased in value from fourteen billion francs to twelve billion francs.

The most disquieting feature of the statistics is the unprecedented drop of importation of raw materials from fifteen billions of francs to five billions.

An encouraging note in the importations is the great fall in imports of foodstuffs by four and one-quarter billions of francs, showing that France is rapidly regaining her power of feeding herself independently.

On the other hand, France has a remarkable record of no unemployment and no labor unrest.

Owing to the fact that her great basic industry is agriculture, France is in a much more favorable position than big manufacturing nations. In general agriculture is in a much better shape than for years, and the patient industry of the French peasant is unequaled in Europe.

Passing Through Crisis

The Ministry of Agriculture just announced, despite the drought, the wheat crop surpasses all records with 87,000,000 of quintals, including 2,000,000 from Alsace-Lorraine. The average yield of 16.4 quintals per hectare also established a record. The immediate result was a reduction in the retail price of bread, which is a far greater staple foodstuff in France than any other country. Another result will be the halting of importations of wheat and heavy payments in depreciated currency.

Unheralded in the press, France is passing through the crisis of a silent "buyers' strike." As prices steadily mounted, the mass of people gradually stopped buying anything except necessities. It is a hard blow to the stores that had stocked up with money borrowed from the banks at high rates. Although the storekeepers are stubbornly holding out, trying to get out even, the prices in clothes and shoes have been forced down about 20 per cent.

Since the first of the year the general cost of living has dropped about 15 per cent. Meantime, wages have followed with an average decrease of from 12 to 15 per cent.

Food Prices on Top

But food prices, except bread, are tenaciously holding to the top notch, with prospects of soaring during the winter, owing to the two months' drought. The vintage of wine is above the average.

Owing to the destruction of the Lens coal fields, France's coal production is still far under pre-war production, which, in turn, directly affects nearly every branch of national industry. Statistics show that steel and iron production exceeds France's national needs, but she is unable to market it freely.

But despite the heavy burden of her devastated regions and the unfavorable world economic condition, French economists and business experts agree that fundamentally, France is sound, and needs only time and work to put her on the road to the old-time national prosperity.

MAKES SPECTACULAR EXIT

SANTA ROSA—From an experience rivaling the exploits of Roy Gardner, J. R. McGuire is in Santa Rosa after a spectacular escape from a Mexican prison salt mine. McGuire, engineer and soldier of fortune, was a member of the secret service under the Madero regime, was captured by the Huerta forces, and condemned to life imprisonment in the salt mines, he relates. For five years he labored 350 feet below the earth's surface, until his opportunity came. With two companions he overpowered one of the prison guards, and made his escape. Out on the Mexican desert, McGuire says, he and his companions decided it were best to separate, each man for himself, the better to evade pursuers. He headed for the border, the other two in the direction of the Tampico oil fields. Traveling only by night, and sometimes even avoiding the roads, he succeeded in reaching the international boundary. The privations he suffered on the journey, however, reduced him from a fairly robust man, to 90 pounds weight, which he was months in regaining.

PUBLIC INSPECTION WILL BE GIVEN UNIQUE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Price Will Permit People to Visit Their Pleasing House

So curious have become many passersby over the unique plan of construction of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Price, 328 Riverdale drive, that the owners have decided to hold an open house some afternoon when the home is completed within the next month or six weeks.

The design for the home was studied out by Mrs. Price, who used as the basis, the Spanish mission type of house. Elaborating on this plan with original lines a very unique and artistic effect has been the result.

The carpenter work has been supervised by Mr. Price, and is at present practically completed with the exception of the floors.

A very delicate shade of grey has been combined with other soft colors for the interior finish and the whole effect is pleasing and harmonious. The decorating is being done by C. J. Seubert, 309 East Elk avenue, James Wright, 122 North Maryland avenue, and Jacob Fink, 228 North Maryland avenue.

Attracts Attention

Original ideas were used in built-in conveniences which will harmonize with the furniture and fixtures. The house in both plan and finish is at present attracting much attention and many pleasing comments are being made.

The decision of Mr. and Mrs. Price to hold an open house so that any one desiring may call and inspect the home is a very pleasing idea and no doubt the event will be largely attended. The day will be announced later in The Glendale Evening News.

Democrats Attack Tax Bill; Declare Rich Men Benefit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The pending tax revision bill was attacked by the Democratic members of the senate finance committee as providing for a redemption and repeal of taxes "in a way that unbalances the whole tax system and relieves the corporations and also ultra-rich of hundreds of millions of dollars of taxes, most of which is shifted to the shoulders of the masses."

In a minority report submitted to the senate by the Democratic members of the committee, it was asserted that the proposed abolition of higher income surtaxes would benefit 11,077 millionaires while 5,321,683 people whose incomes are less than $66,000 a year would derive no benefit whatever.

Striking Waiters of Berlin Spill Some Soup Upon Guests

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Disorders broke out in the waiters' strike. Strikers invaded public dining rooms where strikebreakers were at work, smashing dishes and mirrors and pouring soup over the guests. The hotels have notified the government that new quarters must be found for the allied missions as they are without servants to attend to the customers' needs.

"Joshua commanded the sun to stand still," said the good deacon. "Must have been the ninth inning with the score a tie and rain clouds looming up," suggested the unregenerate backslider.

France's Policy Is Moulded by Fear of 2 Nations, Is Claim

PARIS—The guiding principle of France's policy at the Washington conference in regard to land disarmament will be based upon her geographical position—forced to live beside an active and powerful hereditary enemy in Germany.

Another almost equally moving factor is that great political enigma of Europe—Russia. French statesmen foresee the ever-present possibility that at some future time Germany and Russia may join forces, either militarily or economically, or both, and at one stroke upset all plans. With the present Bolshevi regime in power, France knows that she has in Russia a potential enemy. Whether the enmity will continue when and if the Bolsheviks are overthrown, is an unanswerable question. In every calculation affecting her national security, French statesmen must keep the above possibilities in sight.

These fundamental principles will underlie every move of the French representatives at the Washington conference. While admitting the possibilities of world-wide benefit that would result from any settlement of the Pacific questions or any workable accord on disarmament, thus far the majority of the French press and a section of official circles are viewing the Washington conference with a noticeable lack of enthusiasm. Most of the comment in the press has been of a critical nature.

The outstanding fact seems to be that France cannot yet see how she stands to gain much from the conference and does clearly see how she might lose heavily, especially in the matter of land disarmament.

However, in the interests of the general world welfare and in the hope that some formula will be worked out that might permit a lifting of some of the burden of armaments without affecting national security, France is willing to participate in good faith.

But the French delegation will go to the conference with one unalterable reservation on land disarmament and one unanimous mandate from the nation. That is, that no arrangement will be entered into that would in any way compromise the national security of France.

DOG DELIVERY NOW F. O. B.

ALAMEDA—From now on, dogs and cats, held at the city pound, will be delivered to their owners strictly f. o. b., and no exceptions made. This is the ultimatum published to the world in general and in particular to those persons who are accustomed to invite him to bring home their stray pets, by City Poundmaster Grant Hicks. "Every day," he declares, someone calls up and asks me to bring home his dog and cat. But the transportation is costing the city too much in gasoline." From now on a bill for gas will be presented with the license bill, Poundmaster Hicks announces.

SOLDIERS TO STAGE FORT MAC ARTHUR CELEBRATION

Battle of San Diego Will Be Fought Over Again; Plenty to Eat Is Promised

Ayis! Attencion! Attende!

So say the opening lines of the "Fort MacArthur Reunion Committee" letter of announcement that has been sent to every man in the southern part of the state who "soldiered" at the Los Angeles harbor fortification at any time during the war. The circular letter tells of the first reunion of the boys who fought the various and sundry battles of "San Pedro," "Mud Flats," "Dead Man's Island," "Vin Blanc" and numerous other bloody encounters often referred to by the many survivors of those terrible days of strife and turmoil.

The monstrous affair, which is expected to attract more than a thousand former officers and men of the coast artillery corps, is to be staged on Sunday afternoon, October 16, at Fort MacArthur, "the scene of our old stamping ground, where on many a starlit night, past the sentry you took flight, and where Reveille was always enjoyed? — 'Razberry' — 'Horse Collar'—'Sergeant, get his name.' "The big 'doins" will start at 2:30, when the former "pelicans" and "mess hall hounds" will quietly and "civilizedly" gather themselves around the festive board and will be given the chance of eating all they want without having to fight for it. In other words, "Might will not rule"as it did in the past, and the meek and submissive will be given as much as the strong and more aggressive.

Large Program, Boy!

Following the "feed," which has been promised to be an honest-to-goodness home-cooked dinner, with army chow taboo, the former "Gold brickers" and otherwise will be entertained by a specially selected program for the occasion, after which they will enjoy themselves chatting with fellow buddies and visiting the barracks and other seculded spots where they were wont to wander at about the time when the unwelcome strains of "fatigue" were wafted on the else-wise pleasant zephyrs.

A number of special electric trains have been chartered for the occasion, and they have been scheduled to leave the P. E. station in Los Angeles at 12:31 o'clock.

The festive assembly of the former artillerymen is being arranged by the Fort MacArthur Reunion Committee, which is composed of the following men: Hugh G. Waddell, general chairman; Philip F. Dodson, general secretary; and Robert L. Hanley, Frank R. McReynolds, W. A. Knost, H. H. Scott, Robert M. Allen, Casey Jones, John T. Riley, F. L. Foster, W. C. Weber, Walter Long, Forest J. Johnston, Grover Vail and Colonel H. J. Hatch. All men are contemplating taking in the celebration are requested to communicate with Secretary Dodson, 800 Union League building, Los Angeles.

List of Local Men

Following is a list of local men who were members of the original Glendale, or Ninth, company, which was stationed during the first part of the war on Dead Man's island, some of whom have since moved from this city: Howard L. Anderson, Howard M. Anderson, Donald H. Barager, Al Bullis, Arthur Budway, Frank Budway, John College, Harry V. Chandler, Ralph E. Dodsworth, Eugene Dopp, C. L. Over Billion Claim of Various U. S. Railroads

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The total claims against the government as the result of federal operation during the war will probably aggregate $1,087,000,000, Director General of Railroads Davis today reported to the president.

Director Davis reported that to October 1 claims filed totaled $856,000,000, these claims having been filed by roads with a total mileage of 189,384, representing 78 per cent of the total mileage of 241,000, taken over by the government.

Think It Over

Did you ever stop to reason it out why waffles and hot cakes taste so good? The main reason is because they are served hot from the stove. That's one reason why our food tastes so delicious. It is always hot—not "luke-warm."

GREAT ESTATES ARE BEING BROKEN UP BY HEAVY TAXES

All England Is Startled by Statements of Landowners Regarding Big Losses

LONDON—The auctioneer's hammer is rattling omniously in England. The decentralization of large ownerships accelerated on both sides of the Atlantic since the war is appearing now in the break-up of ancient estates.

Heavily increased taxation on land accompanied by costs of upkeep far in excess of increases in returns from rentals, makes the holding of large tracts of land not only an unprofitable but even a losing proposition. In 1920 one firm of auctioneers alone sold 349,695 acres of country property. This year thousands of acres of old estates are being sold weekly.

All England has just been startled by the announcement that the Duke of Portland made in an address to his tenants to the effect that his family can hardly hope to continue even another generation the possession of his famous country seat, Welbeck Abbey. This ancient estate, dating from 1154, is especially known for its great amount of underground passages and rooms. What seemed likely to necessitate the breakup of his estate, the duke said, was the high death duty, known in America as the inheritance tax. This, in England, for estates valued at more than $10,000,000, is 40 per cent.

Selling Much Property

The Duke of Portland is only one of many. The Duke of Bedford recently made public the statistics of one of his estates, showing that with the taxes and the charitable gifts, which were practically, if not actually, obligatory, the estate actually lost some $25,000 in 1920. The Duke of Bedford has recently been selling much of his town and country property. The Duke of Devonshire recently sold Devonshire House, in the very fashionable Park Lane, London. The old historic house, which to Englishmen seems like one of the bridges back over the centuries, will probably be torn down to make way for a hotel.

Even by that strong labor organ, the "Daily Herald," the breakup of the old estates in the present matter is deplored. "That estates are rapidly changing hands brings no relief," it says, "to the people of the country. The abolition of the old landlord only means the entry of a new one, often quite lacking in the Tory tradition of patriarchal benevolence, which, degrading though it was, served better than the mere commercial doctrine of grab.

One Master for Another

"As it is, we are but changing one master for another, or for a host of others, smaller in estate, but equally possessed of rights which should, in full justice, be common property. Nothing is to be gained by the transference of these lovely places from one who lost financially by the war to one who profited. But the continual marketing of the stately homes of England may suggest to the English people that it is time to demand their common heritage."

The "Pall Mall Gazette" sees in the Duke of Portland's announcement the passing of the old order. It comments: "The 'Dukeries' scarcely dovetail into the sentiment of a more democratic age, and while the picturesqueness of the patriarchal regime will be missed, it is a healthier life that is beginning to overspread the shires with its more equal distribution of property and initiative."

Sidney Webb, in one of his lectures, suggested that the estates should not be broken up, but that they should be owned in such a way as to permit their use by a wider circle of people.

'Dealing In Ideas,' Is New Business by A. Ruef, Upon Parole

PORTLAND, Ore.—"It takes more than a lifetime to live down a reputation after you have made a misstep."

This was the declaration of Abe Ruef of San Francisco, the central figure in one of the nation's most sensational bribery cases, who has been here on business.

Ruef was sentenced to serve fourteen years in San Quentin penitentiary after having been convicted of bribing a supervisor to vote for an overhead franchise for the United Railways. On August 21, 1915, he was paroled, after a perfect conduct record during his term of imprisonment.

Following his release from the penitentiary Ruef went into retirement on his ranch in the San Joaquin valley. He is now interested in the real estate and investment business, and came to Oregon to look over some of his property.

A new "business proposition" in which Ruef is interested is that of "dealing in ideas."

"I haven't actively begun the business of ideas," Ruef said, "but I believe there is a great field for it. There are a great many people with good ideas which they are afraid to develop for fear they will be taken advantage of by exploiters and promoters, or else because they do not know how to turn those ideas into realities. I have in mind an organization to offer aid to this class of people.

"This scheme has already brought me letters from all over the world. One recently reached me from Russia merely addressed to "Abe Ruef, U. S. A." in Russian. It took some time to arrive but it finally got to me."

Ruef admits that a large part of his time is taken from conducting his own affairs by reason of the numerous appeals for advice and help which he receives from all over the country from persons who, like himself, have made a mis-step and suffered for it, and who want to come back in the face of the hardships which the world admittedly places in the way of "the man with a record."

BANKING LECTURE COURSES

SACRAMENTO—Endorsement of the movement to establish lecture courses on banking and investments for elementary and high schools has been given by Will C. Wood, director of education, it was announced today. The course is prepared by the American Bankers' association and deals with various phases of banking, including checking and deposit accounts and traveler's checks. The campaign will be carried on in the various schools through a series of lectures.

ROSES IN ABUNDANCE

When roses are to be grown out of doors make cuttings about six inches long from mature wood in the fall before severe freezing weather, tie in bundles and store in moist sand over winter. They are planted in V-shaped trenches in the spring, with only one bud showing. When grown under glass, cuttings are made in November and December and planted in sand in cold frames or cool greenhouses, potted in February or March and planted out in the open ground when warm weather arrives.

NO SIGN OF POVERTY NOW

OROVILLE—It was named Poverty Ridge by the miners in the gold days. But the miners near saw the corn that grows there now. A stalk 13½ feet high taken from one of the fields on Poverty Ridge is on display to Sylvan Bernstein, president of the Manufacturers' and Wholesalers' association. Bernstein declared that business transactions totaling over $12,000,000 were completed with Pacific coast merchants during the recent five-day market week.

The total number of Mohammedans is 227,040,000.

HARD LUCK HALTED WHEN HE DECIDES TO LOCATE HERE

J. W. Hunter, After His Unusual Experiences, Seeeks Home In Growing Glendale

After experiencing an unusual run of misfortune, J. W. Hunter, formerly of Calexico, but now of Banning, has found Glendale just the place he is looking for and plans to bring his family here soon to reside permanently.

While Mr. Hunter's little son and daughter were playing with a gun last summer, the weapon was discharged accidentally and a load of buckshot entered the daughter's left arm, which necessitated amputation.

A short time later while Mr. Hunter was at work with a team of horses, one kicked him and he was under the doctor's care for quite a while. Shortly after recovering, the flivver got unruly and upset, Mr. Hunter finding himself under it after the debris had partially been cleared away.

To Buy Home Here

Hard luck seemed to follow Mr. Hunter as long as he was near Imperial Valley and he decided to hie northward and see if he could get away from it.

He finally came to Glendale, and here, he says, he will stay.

He is now planning to bring his family as soon as possible, invest in a home and live, as he put it, "in a real honest to goodness place."

WILL HE WALK ON WATER?

RED BLUFF—A. N. Sheldon of Ventura, who claims no divine inspirations, left to walk up the Sacramento river on the water. Sheldon is experimenting with a mechanical invention for walking on the water, which he states when perfected will introduce a rare sport and a healthful exercise.

His device consists of a couple of small boats, one for each foot. The boats, or shoes, are about ten feet long, and weigh about twenty pounds. They are connected with an ingenious attachment which prevents them from shooting in opposite directions, while still allowing play for the propulsion of the walker. Sheldon says the device is fool proof and safe at all times in smooth water. The shoes are operated in a manner very similar to that of skis, but require much energy.

Charity begins at home, and is seldom fond of traveling.

NOW BOYS, DON'T SCRAP

CHICO—Empty is fame. A man no sooner wins a title than it is disputed. And every Peary seems to have his Dr. Cook. Despite the exploit of Henry Clineschmidt of Redding, aged 8, in climbing to the peak of Mount Lassen, Donald Eaves, a Chico boy, disputes his claims to being the youngest boy to make the climb. "I wish to say that at the age of 6 years and 8 months I made several climbs up Lassen peak. I am now 14 years old." Clineschmidt, however, urges with some reason, that he at this present moment, is nevertheless the youngest boy to climb Mount Lassen.

GLENDALE THEATRE SHOW FEATURING VITAGRAPH DAY

Starts at 7:30 Tonight and Will Have Variety That Will Satisfy Everyone

Another great program awaits patrons of The Glendale Theatre tonight—Vitagraph day. There will be only one show, commencing at 7:30 p. m. and the variety offered equals any performance ever staged.

"Steelheart," Vitagraph's latest picture starring William Duncan, will be previewed and Mr. Duncan and his leading lady, Miss Edith Johnson, will make personal appearances. "The Bell Hop," Larry Semon's latest and greatest comedy, also will be previewed with the star giving a monologue which will equal the picture.

Other film numbers include the screen novelty, "Aesop's Fables Modernized" and a weekly review including scientific, educational and scenic subjects.

F. Brooks Cole, "Southland's favorite baritone," will sing the Stein song from "Robin Hood," with organ accompaniment by Harry Girard. Miss Virginia Ainsworth, late prima donna with Klaw & Erlanger productions, will render two numbers, "Rose of My Heart" and "I'm in Love with Mary." She will be accompanied by Mr. Girard at the organ while Miss Florence Egan will play a violin obligato.

For the entertainment of the children there will be "Pat," the intellectual bulldog, a Vitagraph canine star that does just as told by Harry S. Lucenay.

This combination of music, monologue and feature film attractions with the added novelty of personal appearances should make the Glendale Theatre the mecca of a capacity number of theatregoers tonight. All of which is made possible through the courtesy of managers and directors of Vitagraph, Inc.

Tomorrow matinee and night vaudeville will be played as usual.

Dr. King's Funeral Service Takes Place, Local Pastor Aiding

The funeral of Dr. D. H. King of Hollywood was held at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors yesterday afternoon, the services being in charge of Rev. Isitt, a former New Jersey pastor and intimate friend of the deceased, and by Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church. There were many former New Jersey friends present from Glendale, Los Angeles, Alhambra and Orange.

Burbank Plant of Soap Company Will Fill Coast Orders

Local dealers have received notice from the Andrew Jergens Soap company of Cnicinnati, Ohio, to the effect that further orders in the Pacific coast district will be filled at their plant at Burbank, California. Only recently this great eastern concern took over the Carbassemo products works in Glendale's neighbor municipality. It has been overhauled and now is operating.

HERE'S NEW KIND OF FRUIT

SAN FERNANDO — Melons crossed with casabas have produced a new and delicious fruit, according to Howard Burbank who conducted the experiments. The Hotel Maryland in Pasadena and other large consumers have made regular contracts for his output.

The melon-casaba, Burbank states, is the result of five years of experimentation in crossing the fruits by the seeds. The fruit has the appearance of a casaba, but has the taste of a rich melon. The only difficulty with the fruit, it is said, is that it ripens very quickly and under cold storage will only keep a few days. Thus shipping the product will be impracticable.

It's Candy Day Tomorrow
'Luckier Than a Dog'
He Found It Macaroni!
New High School Site

—By Gil A. Cowan—

TOMORROW, Saturday, October 8, is National Candy Day. It is called "the sweetest day of the year." Everybody who eats candy undoubtedly will celebrate by buying a box for themselves and their friends. That will be a sweet thing to do.

Candy is a food, scientists assure. If it is pure—and the food laws provide for that—sugar confection has a place in the diet of practically every person. Which is a good reason for buying it other than the fact that it is toothsome.

In the columns of The Glendale Evening News today you will find many advertisements calling attention to these facts. The merchants here are taking advantage of this opportunity to present to the public Glendale made candies.

It is commendable when "home town" merchants give the preference to local products and thereby keep money in Glendale. Of course, it is not possible to always do so, but the spirit of co-operation is what counts.

Real human interest stories sometimes fail to appear in print because of the lack of names or relative importance to the news of the day, but two little incidents coming to the attention of the writer provide pathetic and humorous sidelights worthy of publication.

A collie pup was run down by an automobile on West Broadway yesterday afternoon. Howling in pain it hobbled toward Spohr's drug store where an interested browd of pedestrians gathered round and probably considered themselves "luckier than a dog" in not getting their limbs crunched under a passing machine.

Some humane young man took the crippled canine in hand and as it licked his face the fellow stroked the puppy's limp leg and finally carried it away to a veterinary surgeon. Tears welled in women's eyes—and men, too, held sympathy for the dumb animal in distress. Few who do not know the faithfulness of a dog to its master.

Now for something that strikes the funny bone.

A friend of mine motored over to Los Angeles yesterday afternoon and before returning from the city of the Angels, he stopped at a wholesale macaroni factory for two-bits worth of the pasty food. It was wrapped like a blanket and he nonchalantly tossed it into the tonneau while making other purchases.

In the short interval he was away from the machine some sneak who preys on motorists had torn off part of the paper cover to discoved what was in the package "before taking." You can chuckle at his chagrin when he found it macaroni.

After full investigation a committee of citizens representing the Chamber of Commerce have decided that Broadway and Verdugo Road provides an ideal site for the Glendale Union high school.

Without considering the cost of property in that vicinity and giving no other thought than convenience to the largest number of pupils, it is seemingly a wise decision.

Broadway is one of the principal business thoroughfares of the city and the proposed site would lie on a direct route between here and Eagle Rock, another component part of the high school district. Verdugo Road leads to the foothills and the hundreds of homes in which the young people look to Glendale for higher education.

Broadway and Verdugo Road is accessible by the East Glendale Pacific Electric cars, the Eagle Rock branch of the Glendale & Montrose line and well paved boulevards. It probably will necessitate a special car from North Glendale and return each day, but in this age of motor transit there will be only a few who will need to resort to walks of a severe distance in attending school.

Angelus Park Property Finding Ready Buyers

Lots in the Angelus Park tract are finding ready buyers in south Glendale, reports Gilbert Fay, 3807 Revere avenue, who is in charge of the tract office at the southwest corner of South Brand boulevard and Seneca street.

All the forty-foot lots on the second block between Seneca street and Revere avenue have been taken and there are but five of the fifty-foot lots left. On Boyce avenue a half block was sold before the curbing and sidewalks were in.

Purchasers, in the greater number of cases, are planning to build immediately, it is reported from the tract office and since the lots were placed on sale by Rigali & Veselich of Los Angeles the tract office has been visited daily by a large number of prospective purchasers who desire to build homes.

The report brought to the tract office is the same that is to be found throughout Glendale, everyone is getting tired of either trying to rent, or paying rent, and a special effort to purchase lots and build a home is being made.

Angelus Park tract is the scene of much activity throughout the day. The grounds are being put in shape, weeds being cut, and the street improvements in the way of curbings, sidewalks, water, light and gas are being hurried along. Sites for bungalows are being staked out and in many instances building operations have already begun. C. A. Wallace, assistant at the tract office, made the prediction that within the next six months there would be dozens of new homes built on the lots now being offered for sale.

GENUINE AMERICAN STORY OF MOTHER LOVE ON SCREEN

A genuine American photoplay at last! "The Old Nest," a story of mother love and self-sacrifice common to every family the world over, which was shown at the T. D. & L. theatre yesterday, is the work of Rupert Hughes, the eminent American novelist. It was produced by Goldwyn and directed by Reginald Barker. There is humor and there are tears in this plain story of daily life as we all know it. Not a person in the audience was free from the grip of its appeal.

If you like to laugh, if you enjoy a gentle weeping spell, if you want to see yourself, your brothers and sisters, your father and your mother on the screen, go and see "The Old Nest."

Different Than Usual

While this story is gripping, it has a different hold on the emotions than the usual thriller. There isn't one melodramatic scene. Yet this picture held the audience at the T. D. & L. Theatre more strongly than any melodrama ever filmed. And the reason is that "The Old Nest" is a genuine story, beautifully acted and excellently produced. We have never seen one woman portray the gradually aging mother so deftly as Mary Alden acted this role. Her black hair became iron gray, then silvery. And with the passing of the years, the physical appearance and activity of the mother kept pace with time. "The Old Nest" is a picture that America has been waiting for.

Buster Keaton's latest comedy scream, "The Playhouse," adds plenty of laughs to this fine program.

Public Reception by Hart Realty Company

The Hart Realty company is planning to hold a public reception just as soon as its new offices are finished at 113 East Broadway. The Roy L. Kent company, 130 South Brand boulevard, has charge of finishing and decorating the interior and the painting and papering will be ready within a few days.

When the work is completed and the company thoroughly installed for business, the firm will have a very commodious and efficient arrangement of offices to take care of its volume of business. In commenting on the plans today, L. A. Hart said:

"We shall have large and well-equipped quarters and we are planning to hold a public reception just as soon as the work of decorating is finished. The event will be a sort of house warming and the date will be announced later.

"We are doing this because we want the public to realize how well equipped we are to handle both real estate and general insurance. At present we are somewhat handicapped by the work not being finished and by the delay in getting the phone installed, but we hope to be ready within a week. The public has taken much interest in our new establishment, and we appreciate it heartily."

Men Are Nearing Ideal, Says Woman Leader

NEW YORK—At last woman has made a man out of man.

The reformation, in progress since the beginning of time, now is accomplished, and man—the majority, of course—has reached the height of perfection.

"And woman did it," Mrs. Mary Coleman, attorney and club leader, told the United Press today.

"Twenty years ago man spent his nights at the club; 200 years ago he powdered his nose in public and wore silk panties; 2000 years ago he cut a woman's head off if he didn't like the part in her hair.

"But today—he comes home, helps wipe the dinner dishes, and then goes out and pushes the baby carriage around the block.

"He shaves every day and keeps himself neat and trim. Physically and mentally he is the peer of any past generations.

"The change was brought about by woman. She keeps him at home nights now because she is able to discuss business and politics and he doesn't have to go to the club. She makes him do some of the shopping and be interested in care of the home.

"Why, men have nerve enough now to argue with the butcher because there is too much bone in the steak!

"He isn't growing effeminate—he's just found out how to be a man."

The American soldier will appear on a monument of thanksgiving in memory of sailors and soldiers who fell in the Great War, which will be erected at Lourdes, France.

FIRST CONCERT OF SEASON TONIGHT BY MUSIC CLUB

Charles Wakefield Cadman's Compositions Will Please Large Crowd Expected

An unusual amount of interest is being taken by the music lovers in Glendale at the announcement of the first concert of the season under the auspices of the Glendale Music club, which will be given at the high school auditorium tonight by the American composer, Charles Wakefield Cadman, who is already known to the people of Glendale, not only by his music but also by his delightful, informal talk before the members of the Glendale Music club at the banquet held last June.

The piano selections by Mr. Cadman and the numbers which will be given by Miss Margaret Messer and Sol Cohen include a number of pieces from the opera "Shanewis" and also from the Omar Khayyam suite. The people of Glendale will also have the good fortune of hearing some new Cadman songs which are in the manuscript form as yet. These will be sung by Miss Messer and form a cycle of songs, based upon real Chinese melodies and the poems of which were translated by Moon Kwan.

With the exception of two violin selections by Mr. Cohen, written by Kreisler, the remainder of the numbers on tonight's program will be from Cadman composition. The program was printed in detail in yesterday's Glendale Evening News.

Returns from Tour

Margaret Messer, who has been chosen to assist Mr. Cadman, is a Canadian operatic soprano, and has only recently returned from an extended visit in Toronto, following a tour covering nine states and terminating in Chicago. Sol Cohen, concert violinist, is also an artist of distinction. He has appeared with great success in many of the large cities of this country and Europe.

Glendale Music club members will be admitted to the concert free upon showing their membership cards, which can be secured by paying their dues to either the treasurer or financial secretary, Mrs. Warren Roberts or Mrs. Vivian Webb, who will be at the high school at 7:30 o'clock tonight to issue the cards and also distribute the year books. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock. Non-club members can secure tickets at the Glendale Music store.

Movie Actor Is Hunted as Young Girl Slayer

ST. JOHN, N. B.—Garbed as a railroad laborer and answering the description of a murderer, Edward Lewis, a movie actor, recently had a thrilling experience.

Lewis was taking the role of a navvy. He was dressed in khaki pants, blue coat and soft hat. His hair is jet black and he is dark-complexioned. He looks like an Italian laborer in his costume. Lewis was on location near here with a company of players filming a scenario for a Canadian motion picture company. He had been imported from New York City.

Lewis separated at noon from the balance of the group and started to walk along the railroad tracks where the scenes were being filmed, picking berries. He had walked about a half mile when he saw three men running toward him. Thinking they intended to assault him, he fled into the woods. The trio chased him, and after a pursuit of about three miles they captured him. He was taken, despite his protests, to the police station, and lodged in a cell. In the evening, the manager of the company came at his summons to the police station and formally identified him as a member of his company.

Lewis had been arrested as a murder suspect. The man who enticed little 9-year-old Sadie McAuley from St. John on the pretense of picking berries, was described as dark complexioned, with jet-black hair and wearing khaki pants, blue coat and an old soft hat. Lewis answered this description to the letter. Lewis said he feared lynching if he had been in custody much longer, as feeling was intense.

The murderer of the McAuley child is still at large. The body was found seven days after the disappearance of the girl. It had been placed under a rock.

Chile Borrows Ideas of Department Stores

SANTIAGO—The department store idea has hit the bull's-eye in Chile. Comparatively a recent institution on anything like a large scale in this country, it has demonstrated its success, and though times are "bad" here, the perennial bargain-hunter is always evident.

A few days ago a large force of reserve policemen were necessitated to keep order in the entire block occupied by the city's largest store on the occasion of the opening of a sale.

Santiago now has two large, well-equipped department stores, handling everything from garden tools to groceries. A few weeks ago one of them opened a tea room, and it attained instant popularity, particularly among the youth of the city.

Most of the stocks sold by the department stores are imported from England, France and the United States. Among the American articles sold are shoes, food-products, hats and some textile products. American goods are popular, but their prices are not, and buyers are not taking chances of repeating heavy losses which have been incurred on account of the swift rise in value of the U. S. dollar.

BANKERS HEAR PLAN FOR CREDITS TO NEEDY NATIONS

One of England's Foremost Financiers Is Speaker at L. A. Convention Today

By CHARLES E. HUGHES

An international credits scheme designed to bring substantial help to war-torn nations, revive the productive power of much of Europe and restore normal overseas trade, thereby contributing to starting the wheels of many American industries now standing idle or working only part time, was outlined to delegates to the American Bankers' Association convention in Los Angeles.

An explanation of the scheme, which is known as the Ter Meulen plan, was given by Sir D. Drummond Fraser, K. B. E., of the Manchester and Liverpool district bank, one of Great Britain's foremost financiers and economists.

Sir Drummond, who is the organizer of the plan, warned the bankers that if there is a continued restriction of the credit of European countries this will inevitably mean a shrinkage of imports from the United States.

To Finance Imports

In discussing the scheme in his address, Sir Drummond said:

"It is designed to enable war-stricken nations who possess approved national securities to finance essential imports—that is—goods which stimulate the productivity of the country—by giving them the power, through the bond, to command the confidence which will attract the necessary credit.

"The scheme proposes the formation of an international organization for the provision of guarantees, which, on the one hand, will protect the autonomy of the borrowing countries, and on the other hand, will offer adequate security for the lenders.

"Purchases from foreign countries must be balanced by sales to the foreign countries. The purchases and sales must be made through the private importers of one country with the private exporters of another. It is not intended to finance governments, except in special approved cases."

Need Goods and Credit

F. O. Watts, president of the First National bank of St. Louis and chairman of the American financial delegation to the international Chamber of Commerce meeting at London last June, was another speaker before the convention.

"Not only must the impoverished countries of Europe be supplied with goods," Watts said, "but credit also must be advanced in order that payment for the goods may be made by consumers and the wheels of industry set in motion.

At the election of officers yesterday John S. Drum of San Francisco, president, became a member of the executive committee; Thomas B. McAdams of Richmond, Va., became president; John H. Puelicher of Milwaukee, first vice president, and Walter W. Head of Omaha, second vice president.

Government Is Not Ready to Fight on Rights of Japanese

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The government is not ready to fight in the courts to determine the naturalization rights of Japanese, it was indicated when Solicitor General Beck asked the United States supreme court to pass for the present an appeal by Takao Osawa.

The question involved in the case of Osawa is whether one of the Japanese race, born in Japan, is eligible to citizenship under the naturalization laws.

Osawa lost his case in the Washington state supreme court when that body held that Japanese born in Japan are not eligible to citizenship under the present naturalization laws.

Mary Miles Minter Is Juliet Reilly, Court Case Shows

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—It is costly to business to have the toothache, smile at the wrong time and wash your hair when you shouldn't, Mary Miles Minter, film star, discovered when she was docked $4125 of her salary by the American Film company for doing these things. She brought suit through her mother, Pearl Miles Reilly, for the amount she was docked and won.

The case was appealed and now three judges of the United States circuit court of appeal here must decide whether the money is due her. The youthful star did not appear in court, her attorneys doing the talking. Incidentally, they revealed that Mary's real name is Juliet Reilly.

ELIZABETH MOTTERN VISITS RELATIVES IN JERSEY CITY

Writes to Mother Here and Tells of Meeting With Miss Ethel Murphy

Word has been received by Mrs. R. W. Mottern of 211 North Adams street from her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Mottern who is spending several months in New York City.

Miss Mottern left Glendale about six weeks ago and was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. K. C. Sipple of 108 North Adams street, who is now visiting with relatives in Jersey City.

Miss Mottern, whose address is 101 West One Hundred Ninth street, apartment 401, New York, is staying with Miss Lillian Backstrand of Los Angeles and Miss Luna Wellman of Anaheim, the former being a voice teacher and the latter a piano instructor at the University of Southern California. Both Miss Backstrand and Miss Mottern are taking a six months' course in voice culture from Percy Rector Stevens, the internationally known vocal instructor.

Visits Former Schoolmates

Miss Mottern writes that she recently was visited by Miss Helen Hartley of Pasadena and Miss Ethel Murphy of this city, who are now attending the Columbia University in New York City. The young women are former schoolmates at the University of Southern California, and their chance meeting in the country's metropolis was an exceptionally pleasant reunion.

The Misses Backstrand and Mottern expect to return to Southern California in January, when Miss Backstrand will resume her teaching position at the University of Southern California.

Mrs. Sipple is planning to return to her home in Glendale about the latter part of November.

Public Reception Will Be Given to Three Noted Men

Highland Park is to be the scene of a remarkable gathering tomorrow afternoon when a public reception will be given to three world-famous men who are approaching the century mark in the years they have lived.

The guest of honor is Chevalier Albert Van Der Naillen, Dean of the Belgians in America, who comes from Oakland to make his home in Los Angeles for the winter. He is the president of the California Psychical Research society, a branch of which was organized last July in Los Angeles. Dr. Van Der Naillen is in his ninety-fourth year.

Equally remarkable as a venerable patriarch is Mirza Assad Ullah, 97 years young, who comes down from his shrine-retreat in the "Green Verdugo Hills" of Glendale, where he lives with his son, Dr. Ameen U. Fareed, noted physician and lecturer. Southern California being the recognized Mecca of the traveling pilgrims from the Orient and Europe, many of these make inquiry at once for the "Persian Garden" and Mirza Assad Ullah—and visit the venerable representative of the ancient Asia known as Iran.

With Van Der Naillen, the Europena philosopher, and Mirza Assad Ullah, the Persian Prophet, America has the oldest living sage and seer, Dr. J. M. Peebles of Los Angeles, now in his hundredth year and sufficiently recovered from his recent disability to be present. The reception is to be given at 316 North Avenue 66, just off Pasadena avenue two blocks, in the beautiful grounds called the "Garden of Psyche," recently leased by Prof. Frederic Sumner Hughes. The chairman of the committee having the reception in hand is Dr. Edward Douglas, the other members being Mrs. Susanna Page, Dr. Quick, Rev. Baker P. Lee, Dr. Glen MacWilliams and Dr. Edwin M. Wendelstadt of Eagle Rock and Dr. Ameen U. Fareed of Glendale.

MAY QUARANTINE CROPS

ELY, Nev.—Sufficient unto the hay is the weevil thereof. Or more than sufficient, according to authorities of the state board of quarantine negotiating with California farmers regarding quarantine on crops of Nevada counties alleged to have been exposed to weevil infection. Governor Boyle has stated that he favors limiting the district to exclude the south end of Washoe county, the Pleasant Valley section and the Washoe lake area, in order to allow the ranchers to move their hay, but it is doubted whether this could be done without protest from California.

"Well," declared the hardboiled officer," I'm representative of the law in Madera county.

Woman Is Accused of Beating Infant, Causing Its Death

SEATTLE, Oct. 7.—Mrs. H. C. Osborn, who neighbors claim stood before an unshaded window last Friday night beating an 8-months-old baby, finally hurling it from her, is being held in the county jail here today following the death of the child in the city hospital, from internal injuries.

A mansiaughter charge may be launched against Mrs. Osborn after physicians determine the cause of discolorations on the baby's skin. It suffered of malnutrition and also carried marks probably imprinted violently.

The Osborns adopted the baby several months ago. They moved soon after the alleged beating but the infant's condition grew so serious that it had to be removed to the city hospital, resulting in Mrs. Osborn's arrest.

DO THEY USE ANY BAIT?

BERKELEY—A new kind of fishing was discovered at the state university today. When several co-eds awoke to find all their bedclothes missing from their rooms in the girls' dormitory on Hearst and Leroy streets, they were mystified. "Thieves," they told the police. But this morning they found the sheets wrapped around telegraph poles outside. They had been "caught" by male students who climbed to the windows with fishing poles and hooked the clothes from the beds as the girls lay sleeping.

BUSINESS BLOCK IS BEING RUSHED BY ROMMEL FIRM

S. Z. Walters Building to Be Ready In December; Other Work Is Under Way

Work which was begun the earlier part of the week on the business block at the northwest corner of Brand boulevard and Maple street by the Rommel Construction company, 131 South Brand boulevard, is being rushed along so that the building will be completed by December 1 for its owner, S. Z. Walters, 714 North Brand boulevard.

The two-story building with a fifty-foot front and a depth of eighty feet will be of brick and will comprise three stores on the first floor and six double apartments on the second. The Brand boulevard front of the stores will be finished with enameled and tan ruffled brick. Large plate-glass windows will give ample room for displaying goods.

The entrance to the apartments will be on Maple street. Each apartment will consist of three rooms and bath. The bath rooms will be finished in tile and fitted for hot and cold water. Hardwood floors and many built-in features are included in the plans, and the apartments will prove a valuable asset to the city since houses for rent have become so scarce.

Work Is Being Rushed

The work is being rushed along as fast as possible, stated H. E. Rommel, today. The forms for the concrete bases have been constructed and by next week much progress will be seen in the building.

The Rommel Construction company is also making much headway with the large business block at the southwest corner of North Brand and Doran, which is being erected for M. M. Gillespie of Los Angeles. Yesterday the masons were putting the finishing touches on the Brand boulevard front and a force of plumbers from W. T. Ashton's shop, 618 East Broadway, were installing the plumbing fixtures.

The building will include three stores on the Brand boulevard front and two on Doran street. The six apartments on the second floor, it is thought, will be ready for occupancy by the first of December.

Gets Large Contract

The Rommel Construction company landed another big contract, that of the Polish Library at 40th street and South Park avenue, Los Angeles, and work will be started at once. The two-story structure will be 50 feet by 135 feet, and will represent an investment of $30,000.

The first floor plan includes two store rooms, a kitchen, and a living room. A front entrance leads to a large lodge room on the second floor. A large banquet room, kitchen, and cloak-rooms, will be other features of the second floor. Mr. Rommel stated today that the company would exert itself in an endeavor to get the building finished in time for the Polish association to hold its Christmas celebration there.

The Rommel Construction company is now completing the Huntington Park grammar school and within a few days will have the last finishing touch added.

The building activity that is now under way in Glendale by the Rommel Construction company is noted with much appreciation by the boosters of the city, as the demand for stores building and living apartments is increasing steadily.

GIRL MISTAKEN FOR MAN

MONROVIA—The bobbed hair and pajamas of the girl next door saved the home of John O'Day from a burglar, it is believed. The young woman was sleeping on the side porch of her home when she heard a noise in the adjoining house and switched on the porch light. The burglar, seeing the girl's closely clipped hair and masculine garb, dotled, it is thought, and dropped the bundle of swag that was found on the lawn in the morning.

There are more Christians in Europe than in any other continent (390,000,000).

Wants Her Sex To Take Ballot On Disarmament

MRS. JAMES M'DONALD

By furnishing a national forum in which all American women, irrespective of creed, class, condition or political complexion, can meet and exchange views, the Woman's National Foundation, in the opinion of its first vice president, Mrs. James McDonald, is going to help inaugurate a new era in the woman movement.

Mrs. McDonald, who lived long abroad, when her husband was opening up new oil territory in England, India, China and Japan, has an international viewpoint on most affairs.

Just now she believes that the crucial question before every country is disarmament. For that reason she has proposed the first referendum among foundation members, blanks for which are now being prepared.

This referendum, provision for which is made in the general foundation program, will have the two-fold effect of focusing feminine attention on disarmament and of recording the opinions Foundation members express.

In order that membership in the Foundation may be within the reach of every forward looking woman in America, the basic fee has been made $1.00 a year.

Cheer Leader Helps, This Machine Proves

PHILADELPHIA—If you're one of those persons who claim that cheering at a football or baseball game is wasted breath and energy, prepare yourself to be converted to the great throng who do the cheering.

There's a machine out at the University of Pennsylvania that proves, according to psychologists, that cheering does help a whole lot and in many cases may be the means of winning the game. Cheering brings out a last, almost superhuman effort on the part of the cheered, according to psychologists.

The machine consists of a little drum to which a marker is attached. To the marker is tied a string, the other end of which is tied to the finger of the subject. Then a 1,800 gram weight is also tied to the subject's finger, and he is instructed to lift the weight up and down until the finger can lift no longer. No urging or cheering is done the first time.

Then, during a second experiment, when the finger shows signs of fatigue, the subject is urged to "buck up, old boy, and show some pep!" and "just hold out for a while longer!" The markings on the drum show that the subject has been able to lift the weight many times more in the second trial than in the first when no cheering was done.

AND LEGION GLAD OF IT

WATSONVILLE — Because his American Legion pin failed to secure him acquittal on the charge of attacking an officer, Charles A. Dorn flung it into the street in a fury and tore his membership card to bits. The man had evidently been imbibing some sort of home brew, pleaded guilty to striking the officer who remonstrated with him for disturbing the peace, but flew into a rage, when after recital of his war record, he was fined $50. "I am through with the American Legion," explained Dorn. "And the American Legion is glad of it," men of the Legion post here declared. "The Legion is not an organization to obtain clemency for offenders." Dorn claimed to be a member of San Benito Post No. 69.

Oh Tax Kickers, How Do You Like This?

BERLIN—If one lives in Germany he is taxed; if he dies, he is likewise taxed. At least, the city of Frankfurt am Main has hit upon the novel idea of charging a tax upon burials. If one drinks mineral water, he is taxed; and if he drinks schnapps he is taxed more.

If one plays a piano at home, there is another tax; and if one wants to hear music in a theatre, there is still another tax. The tax on "enjoyment" has had the effect of closing more than 100 movie houses here in the past few months, and has driven every circus out of Germany, either to England, France or Holland.

The latest wrinkle in taxes is reported from Saxony, where a head tax is placed upon pigeons, geese, and cats. The tax on geese has caused much objection, for it has struck at the very heart—or rather stomach—of Germany, since roast goose is the Thanksgiving turkey of the Teuton.

Beer, likewise a great national institution, is heavily laden, and the authorities are planning to tax, as well, vinegar, oxygen, coal, wood and advertising posters.

Income taxes will run very heavy. The Saxon premier, for instance, has a yearly income of 76,500 marks—less than $1,000 at the present exchange—and must pay more than a fourth thereof at once in income taxes.

HERE'S LONG AND SHORT

SAN DIEGO—Jan Van Albert, nine feet five inches tall, and Miss Nellie H. Hoogevan, five feet four inches in height, are now man and wife. The marriage took place in Port Arthur, Ont., according to word received here today. Albert, the good natured 21-year-old giant; who with a carnival troop spent last winter in San Diego, is well known in California cities. His wife is a Winnepeg stenographer, who years ago in Holland was a schoolmate of Van Albert's.

REV. TALBOT TELLS ABOUT VISIT TO MOUNT ARARAT

Speaker Describes Conditions at Historic Spot; People Desolate and Starving

Rev. E. Guy Talbot, recently returned from a thorough survey of conditions in Europe, spoke at the First Methodist church last Sunday morning, his description of the devastations of war, poverty, starvation and disease were very vivid. He told of his experiences at the foot of Mount Ararat and so interesting were his statements that they are quoted herewith:

"Our train is on a siding at Erivan, capital of the Soviet republic ot Armenia, at the very foot of Mount Ararat, sacred as the resting place of the Ark after the great flood as recorded in the Bible. Erivan today is but a shadow of her former self, and is a desolated and desecrated place, with thousands of ruined homes and wrecked buildings. Mount Ararat, just south of Erivan, is the highest mountain in this part of the world, being 15,480 feet high, or a thousand feet higher than Mt. Blanc. Just east of Mt. Ararat is Little Ararat, whose summit is 11,070 feet above the sea. Mt. Ararat is volcanic, and on certain days a thin cloud of smoke may be seen coming from the top. I can see this smoke from my car window as I write. In the past century there were many eruptions. The crater is ninety feet in diameter, and from the top there is a magnificent view of the country surrounding Mt. Ararat for a hundred and sixty-five miles. The old mountain on which Noah first set his foot after the flood is most beautiful this August morning. It is covered with snow and towers above the level valley in wondrous majesty.

Head of Armenian Church

"Today our party visited Etchmiadzin, a few miles west of Erivan. Etchmiadzin is the religious capital of Armenia and the seat of the head of the Armenian church, who is called the Katholikos. His position in the Armenian Georgian church is very similar to the Pope of the Roman Catholic church. The Armenian church is governed by the Holy Synod of Etchmiadzin, of which the Katholikos is president. Formerly there was also a lay representative of the Czar of Russia sitting with the Synod, but, of course, this is no longer true. The Cathedral at Etchmiadzin was built in 303 by St. Gregory, the Illuminator, on the spot where tradition says the Son of God appeared to St. Gregory in a vision, and Etchmiadzin means 'The Only Son Has Descended.'

"Our party of Americans was received by the Katholikos and the Holy Synod at Etchmiadzin, and they expressed their thanks and the thanks of the Armenian Georgian church for the great aid America has given the stricken people of Armenia, particularly the helpless and homeless little children.

Government Reception

"Last night we were given a reception by the Armenian government in a most beautiful garden in Erivan. The highest officials of the republic expressed the greatest admiration for the people and government of the United States. They realize that America literally has been the savior of the Armenian people, and that without the help of America there would not now be an Armenian Republic. Every possible courtesy has been shown us by the officials of both Armenian and Georgia.

"The suffering in Armenia is as great today as imagination can possibly conceive. They have had little seed for planting and as a result there will be little harvest this fall. It is a land of rags and dirt and misery unspeakable. Our train stopped for an hour at Alexandropol, fifty miles west of Erivan. On the station platform and in the streets about the station we saw degredation and misery and human suffering which absolutely beggar description. At the corner of the station platform while we were there a little child fell over dead from exhaustion. A man dressed in rags fell on the platform completely exhausted. There is no food, practically, in all Armenia.

Care for Many Orphans

"At Alexandropol the Near East Relief has been caring for twenty thousand orphans. These children are cared for in the old Russian army barracks, which are furnished free by the American government. Alexandropol was formerly the central supply station for the Russian Transcaucasian Army, and had barracks for ninety thousand soldiers. It was taken by the Turks last November and occupied by them until April 12, when it was evacuated by the Turks at the insistence of the Russian Soviet Government. They destroyed a hundred and forty villages as they withdrew, leaving a quarter of a million people homeless.

"The brave American workers at Alexandropol and Erivan are true to the spirit of America. They are giving their lives for those who are in dire need and who have no other friends. An instance of the unselfish purpose of these true-hearted Americans is seen in the fact that even now seven of them at Alexandropol are suffering from the dreaded eye disease, trachoma, so prevalent all over the Near East. Yet these Americans have never deserted their posts.

Hundreds of Homeless

"It is pitiful to see the hundreds of homeless, wandering waifs who are not inside the Near East Relief institutions. Yesterday this awful situation was brought home to us in a most remarkable way. We had been visiting one of the orphanages in Erivan, where several hundred little tots were eating their meal of bread and soup. They were clothed in clothes that came from generous American homes. They were fed by bread from loving American hearts. They were being taught useful trades by patient, trained American teachers. They were happy, contented children.

"Just as we left the homelike scene of this orphanage, at the very door, we saw a mob of a hundred famished, ragged, starved little bodies, with souls still more hungry looking wistfully from eyes that were aged and dulled by countless days and nights of woe and despair. They were holding out their hands for bread, and pleading to be cared for. There was no room. America must continue her aid to this stricken nation, for those homeless waifs of the streets and the mountain caves are the hope of the future nation at the foot of Mt. Ararat. These fertile plains and rich valleys only await a stable government and trained leaders. The Near East Relief is doing a wonderful piece of work in training and salvaging leaders: our government, if it would, might do much to help secure stable government, free from the Turk menace and from European exploitation."

Skunks are exceedingly beneficial to the farmer as they feed almost exclusively on mice, grasshoppers, crickets, white grubs, and other farm pests.

British Vessels Crowd U. S. From Philippines

MANILA, P. I.—British ships are doing the bulk of the carrying trade of the Philippines, according to figures issued by the bureau of customs covering the foreign trade of the islands for the first half of 1920.

Of the commerce with the United States, goods valued at $72,180,000 were shipped in foreign vessels chiefy of British registry, while the value of goods caried in American vessels was only $28,615,000. British vessels carried exports of the Philippines valued at $46,383,000, while the value of exports carried in American vessels was but $38,728,000.

Revenue figures also show that Europe and the United Kingdom are getting the import trade of the Philippines away from America. American firms do not hesitate to buy goods in England or Europe, including Germany, in preference to buying them in the United States. The foreign countries offer better credit terms and sell at lower prices.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.—Advertisement.

CONFIDENCE BEING RAPIDLY GAINED OVER NATION

Financial Experts Attending Bankers' Convention Tell About Business Outlook

The "blue funk" that prevailed in the commercial world eight or nine months ago is now a thing of the past.

There has been a decided change in the mental attitude of the nation's leaders who keep the wheels of business humming.

Confidence is rapidly being restored in every section of the United States.

The armies of unemployed are gradually being put back to work and before long more idle toilers will have returned to factory and bench.

Money is going to be more plentiful. Interest rates will be lower. Liberty bonds are going to rise in value from now on.

The above observations constitute a concensus of opinion of the 3500 bankers who have been in attendance at the forty-seventh annual convention of the American Bankers association which concluded its sessions in Los Angeles today.

Experts Make Analysis

Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust company of New York, and John G. Lonsdale, president of the National Bank of Commerce in St. Louis, two of the most widely known of American financiers, analyzed the trend of events and the opinion of the conventiton. Mr. Sisson said:

"The bankers who came to Los Angeles have a better idea than any other group of American business men can possibly have of the actual conditions of the country. They have been on the firing line during the recent period of depression. They have had to bear the staggering load of financing America's industry.

"These bankers, during the last four days, have exchanged ideas and freely discussed conditions at home. They have recounted the dawning of a great era of prosperity.

"There will be easier money, lower interest rates, good progress in liquidation, a better movement of goods in stores, the railroad situation will improve, banking will be on more sound basis, bank reserves will increase, loans will decrease.

"In addition to the above forecast it mighe be stated that America's foreign trade will go, for foreign opportunities are becoming better every day for the American exporter."

Big Problem Remaining

Mr. Lonsdale, the president-elect of the National Bank division of the bankers' organization, said:

"This convention has been a great factor in America's business life. In personal contact with each other and through their official conferences, the delegates have learned that confidence is now stronger in every state. The unemployment situation is clearing up, the farmer, manufacturer, mechanic and professional man will soon see better days.

"In my opinion the one big problem remaining to be settled is that of taxation. Once this is lightened, then any restrictions on industry will be lifted and we will see old-fashioned boom days."

At the closing session of the convention today Professor Donald McFayden, of the University of Nebraska, and Judge Charles F. Moore of New York, delivered addresses. The newly elected officers were installed.

United States Will Soon Get View of Hand Painted Frock

LONDON—Carlo Norway, inventor of the hand-painted frock, which is to be an autumn fashion feature in London, is on the eve of departing to the United States to introduce the fashion there for the fall season.

Norway, one of the leaders of the younger art colony in London, conceived the idea of painting on silk, velvet and similar textiles during ten years of experimenting in various methods of painting and etching.

His exhibitions at London art galleries were always popular, and he had been the hit of several general exhibitions with his varied work in paintings, pastel, applique, wall and window decorations, glassware vases, bowls, line-cuts, curtains and even wall-paper.

A few months ago Norway began stencilling on cloths. The work was done largely for his own pleasure, merely to find what effects were possible. A brother artist, Louis Fox, thought of the possibility of applying the stencilling to dress materials. This was a great success, and Fox suggested marketing stencilled frocks and gowns. The frocks were an immediate hit. The Duchess of Ruthland, Lady Cunard and Lady Hamilton were pioneer wearers, and, as an absolutely individual design could be guaranteed, it was not long before the idea had caught on.

For several weeks orders have been multiplying from dealers. In some cases individual designs are wanted; in others a dozen or more frocks of one design.

It is almost impossible to duplicate designs except from the original stencil. Any sort of design is possible. Most have been figured; in some, allegorical designs of animals, birds and fish have been used.

The oil paint used is impervious to water, and will not crack. Due to the success of the experiment here, Norway decided to go to America for the autumn season.

HOLDS CRITICISMS OF CONGRESSMAN ARE NOT FAIR

W. E. Evans Makes Answer to Statements on Lineberger Appearing In Newspaper

Editor The Evening News:—My attention has been called to an article published in The Press October 4, concerning the application of the city of Glendale for the establishment of an independent postoffice in said city. I have before me a copy of this article and among other things I find the following statements with reference to the petition and to our Congressman, Walter F. Lineberger, by whom the petition was presented to the Postoffice Department at Washington:

"This petition asked, prayed, pleaded for an independent postoffice for Glendale and that petition was sent direct to Congressman Lineberger. Where it went to no one knows. After performing a few antics including the spread-eagle and the Queen's cross it probably landed in the waste basket, there to rest until the janitor used it to heat up the solemn, high-brow halls where the 'public servants' in the form of congressmen from the different parts of the land congregate. And it took a month or more of hard work to secure those 2400 names. Nothing like having an active representative in Washington.

"Not so very long ago a letter shower was given to OUR Congressman in Washington. These letters were sent by many of the leading business men of Glendale. They asked Congressman Lineberger to do everything in his power to secure for Glendale a postoffice—our 'intelligent, hard-working business men had grown tired of being office boy for Los Angeles. These letters, no doubt, were received for a special delivery or registered letter generally reaches the place to which it is sent. And they probably were read, too—at least some of them. If Congressman Lineberger is doing all he can for Glendale in Washington, it looks as though he has about as much 'power' or 'weight' in the brainy circles at Washington as the corner newsboy who yells 'Daily Press Here' would have in the inner circle of the league of nations."

"Since I have personal knowledge of the circumstances of the presentation of this petition to Congressman Lineberger, and by Lineberger to the Postoffice Department, I feel it incumbent upon me to say that the foregoing attempt to discredit Mr. Lineberger is unwarranted and unfair.

Full Statement Made

This petition, together with communications from the Chamber of Commerce and others in Glendale, was presented to Dr. Hubert Work, First Assistant Postmaster General, in my presence, by Congressman Lineberger in the latter part of July, with a full statement of the circumstances and conditions under which the mail service is being administered in the city of Glendale. We consumed possibly one hour in attempting to advise the First Assistant Postmaster General as best we could of the lack of service in Glendale. Dr. Work called in W. R. Spillman, Superintendent of Division of the Postal Service, and they both made notes of the points presented by Mr. Lineberger and myself. After we had finished our presentation of this matter to the First Assistant Postmaster General we then went immediately to the office of Postmaster General Hays, and there presented to him in person the same matter. Mr. Hays took his note book and made various entries of the points raised by us and assured us that this matter would receive the most careful attention of his Department. Upon leaving the office of the First Assistant, Lineberger turned and said to Dr. Work:

"I have made personal investigation of this Glendale situation through various persons in Glendale, whom I know personally and in whom I have the utmost confidence, and I am satisfied that the complaint of the Glendale people against the mail service there is one of merit and you are not going to get rid of me until this matter is settled, and settled right, so don't be surprised if you hear from me again if favorable action is not taken on this petition soon."

I think I can safely say that those were almost the exact words used by Mr. Lineberger. I telegraphed to Dr. Harrower, chairman of the postoffice committee, that the matter had been presented and I have since learned that my telegram was published in the Glendale papers.

Glendale Paying Its Share

During the course of our discussion with both the First Assistant and Mr. Hays, himself, we were advised that everything was being done that could be done for economy in that Department. They stated that they were refraining insofar as they could from creating additional expenses. In response to this suggested policy of economy, we stated to the First Assistant Postmaster General that we believed that the people of Glendale were paying as much per capita towards the expense of maintaining the Postoffice Department as the people of any other community in the state of California were paying and that the people of Glendale were entitled to just as good service as the people of any other community were receiving, and that in asking for the establishment of an independent postoffice we felt that we were merely asking for that to which we were justly entitled.

Mr. Lineberger and I made the second trip to the Postoffice Department before we were able to see either Mr. Hays or the First Assistant, and used practically the whole of one day in presenting the matter.

To say that the petition had probably been thrown in the waste-basket, or lost sight of, or to intimate that Congressman Lineberger is not zealously and carefully looking after the interest of the people of the city of Glendale in connection with this application is most unfair to Mr. Lineberger; it is likewise unfair to the people of the city of Glendale to attempt to lead them to believe that all is not being done at Washington that can be done in behalf of this cause.

Lineberger Commended

The insinuation that our Congressman has no influence in Washington is likewise without foundation. There are those, no doubt, who believe that all that is necessary in matters of this kind is to ask for what you want, but such is not always the case. If Glendale does not succeed in getting an independent postoffice it will not be because of the lack of effort on the part of our Congressman, or the lack of influence on his part with the Department. I visited in and about the capitol for several days and heard Lineberger spoken of in the most commendable terms by many Congressmen and Senators, among whom were Speaker Gillett, Mondel, Senators Johnson and Shortridge, and various others, all of whom have the very highest regard for Major Lineberger and for the very earnest manner in which he has assumed the responsibilities of the office to which he was elected.

Again I desire to say that the only thing that prompts me to issue this statement is, that I know that the criticism offered of our Congressman in the article is grossly unfair, unjust and without a semblance of support by fact. Very truly.

An orinthological colonel in the British army during the late war trained his men in anti-aircraft duties by making them take observations on the flight of birds. DRAMA SECTION OF CLUB BEGINS YEAR'S WORK

Three One-Act Plays Planned and Stage Curtain to Be Purchased Soon

The drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met yesterday afternoon at the home of the curator, Mrs. R. E. Chase, 239 North Orange street, at which time old and new members were greeted and a great deal of enthusiasm exhibited in the coming year's activities.

The matter of the evening's entertainment of three one-act plays to be given by the section at the Glendale Theatre on the evening of Friday, November 11, was taken up. A report was made to the effect that other sections of the club expressed themselves as willing to join the drama section in the purchase of a stage curtain for use at the Masonic temple, later to be made use of in the new clubhouse.

Drama section members present at yesterday's meeting were Mrs. J. Roger Bentley, Mrs. E. A. Bode, Mrs. R. L. Galvin, Mrs. Colin Cable, Mrs. Alma Gibbs, Mrs. A. M. Hunt, Mrs. Roy L. Kent, Mrs. W. F. Nash, Mrs. Charles H. Temple, Mrs. L. G. Sherman, Mrs. Harry C. Wilcox, Mrs. R. K. Snow, Mrs. A. P. Findlay, Mrs. W. H. Verity, Mrs. W. F. Nash, Jr., Mrs. Malvern Barker, Mrs. Bert Cline, Mrs. C. A. Parker, Mrs. Charles Meadows, Mrs. Harry Lockwood. Guests present were Mrs. Charles Parrish, Mrs. E. C. Kirk, Mrs. Frank Arnold and Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

The program included the reading of "The History of the Drama," by the curator, Mrs. R. E. Chase. At the close of the afternoon refreshments of coffee, sandwiches and cake were served.

Oyster shells and other objects planted on oyster grounds to provide points for the attachment of the spawn are called "cultch." Tin cans bits of crockery, brush, and the like, were formerly much used for this purpose, but now cultch consists almost entirely of shells, and especially oyster shells.

Asia vs. West Problem Seen by This Admiral

LONDON—In the opinion of Sir Cyprian Bridge, the only way to prevent a clash of Asiatic and Western cultures—and also the possible clash of arms—is the consummation of an alliance between the peoples of Europe and their racial relatives in the two Americas, especially an Anglo-American union.

Sir Cyprian, a retired admiral and author of many publications on naval warfare, brought in the new question of cultures during a discussion of Pacific problems faced by the United States, Britain and Japan.

"What is called the Pacific problem is but a part of the far greater question of 'Asia and the West,'" the admiral said. "The latter great question can, in my belief, be settled amicably and to the advantage of both sides if it is taken into consideration without delay.

"I have been careful to speak of it as "Asia and the West," and not 'Asia and Europe,' because I am convinced that both North America and South America will be concerned in it quite as much as Europe.

"It will be a question of a collision—not necessarily armed collision—between ideas, principles, habits, etc., on the one side Oriental, on the other Occidental.

"All America, both North and South, is virtually European—language, polity, laws, arts. The predominant section of all its population is descended from ancestry born in Europe.

"Will the nations on either side of the Atlantic allow that culture to be swamped—even peacefully—by a culture which may be as good, or even better, but which is certainly different?

"There is only one way of preventing it that I can see. That way is a cordial union between the peoples of Europe and their racial relatives in the two Americas.

"Naval disarmament is an excellent thing for one reason. If carried out frankly, it will do much to relieve taxpayers. It is doubtful if it will abolish war.

"Julius Caesar understood disarmament in a way that could hardly be followed in these days. He cut off the right hands of the people whom he meant to disarm. That did the job effectually."

A fish that chews its cud like a cow is known as the parrot-fish and is found in the eastern Mediterranean. These fishes possess certain pocketlike extensions of the membrane of the mouth in which they stow their food while grazing, so to speak, later seeking a quiet place where they chew the contents of the pouch.

Stock Market Report

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Price movements were mixed at the opening of the stock market today with the majority of issues seeking lower levels. Lehigh Valley was prominent, following the publication of the segregation plan yesterday, and dropped 1⅝ to 55. The Tobaccos continued weak. American Sumatra fell 1½ to 36; United Retail 1½ to 48¼ and American Tobacco B. and Tobacco Products yielded 1 point.

Steel issues generally were unchanged. Mexican Petroleum yielded ½ to 93½, but quickly recovered this loss. Pan-American Petroleum sold up ¾ to 44¾. New Haven rose ¾ to 14¾.

After the initial irregularity, prices turned strong and in the late forenoon many issues showed gains of over one point.

The oils were most prominent following further advances in the price of crude oil.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—An easier cotton opening was a surprise to traders and was attributed mainly to an absence of supporting orders after yesterday's late upturn which eliminated the short interest and created a weaker technical position. There was also considerable southern hedging and some selling by Liverpool. First prices generally were 13 @ 37 points lower. By the end of the first 15 minutes of trading the list was about 15 points up from the lowest initial levels. Indications for colder weather in the southwest and possibly frost helped the improvement.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Trade in wheat was light at the start today with no large orders in evidence. December was unchanged and May unchanged to ⅜ per cent higher.

Lack of selling pressure featured corn and trade was very light. December started ⅛ to ¼c higher and May ⅜ to ½ up.

Liquidating sales in May oats caused a slight decline for that future, the start being ¼c higher to ⅛c lower. Dec. opened unchanged to ¼ higher.

Provisions were dull and easier.

The use of sphagnum moss for surgical dressings began on a large scale during the Russian-Japanese war. In the latter part of the World War the British alone produced 1,000,000 sphagnum dressings a month. Sphagnum absorbs liquids about three times as fast as absorbent cotton.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Stanford University and famous educator and peace advocate, will soon complete the second volume of his autobiography. The work abounds with the epigrams and aphorisms for which Dr. Jordan is noted, and contains many amusing and intensely interesting anemdotes such as only he can relate, it is said.

Dr. Jordan is ably assisted in the work by Mrs. Jordan to whom he reads his manuscript, eliminating and elaborating according to her suggestions.

"I think that if she doesn't like it," said Dr. Jordan, "the public won't like it, either."

ART IS NO RECREATION

Art, properly so-called, is no recreation; it cannot be learned at spare moments, nor pursued when we have nothing better to do. CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

CORNING—Of course, it looked mighty suspicious. But it has been wholly discredited. Just because an ugly looking black bottle was found near the plane, malicious persons circulated in Corning the report that aviators LeBreton and Thorne, when they made their forced landing here, had been drinking.

Cadet LeBreton issued a statement declaring that he didn't even know the taste of liquor, and Sergeant Thorne says the same. Those who examined the bottle, and smelled it, it is stated, declare that it could not have contained anything spiritous. The bottle has been removed from the premises.

An eighteen-foot candle will burn 5000 years as a memorial to Enrico Caruso. Every All Souls' Day for 5000 years this candle will be lighted. It weighs 1000 pounds and will require ten weeks to make it. The maker has erected a derrick in his shop by means of which the candle is dipped thrice daily into boiling tallow. It will be placed in the Church of the Madonna of Pompeii at Naples.

E. F. SANDERS WILL DELIVER SPEECH BEFORE LEGION

Assistant Secretary C. of C. on Program; Surprises Are Promised at Gathering

"Big doings" are in store for the members of the Glendale Post, No. 127, American legion, at tonight's weekly meeting at the legion hall on East Broadway, according to Post Commander Emil Kiefer and other members of the executive committee. The gathering is to be a joint affair in conjunction with the Women's Auxiliary society of the Post, and one of the largest attendanaces of the year is expected.

As a special feature E. F. Sanders, well-known "go get 'em" assistant secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, will appear on the program with one of his characteristic inspiring and humorous speeches. Also, a number of surprises have been promised to take place during the evening.

Reports on Carnival

A complete report of the plans concerning the big six-day carnival and circus, which is to be held in this city under the auspices of the local American legion post during Armistice week, will be made public at tonight's meeting. The elaborate affair, which will be conducted by the Sheesley Shows, a corporation which stages similar events all over the country, was made a certainty at noon yesterday, when the final contract was agreed to and signed by W. H. Rice, representing the show company, and Emil O. Kiefer and James F. McBryde, commander and adjutant, respectively, of the American legion. The contract provides for a certain guarantee for the legion and also from 15 to 35 per cent of the gross receipts on the various concessions.

PREPARE PLANS FOR PLANT

MERCED—Plans and specifications for the machinery in the proposed power plant at Don Pedro will be prepared within a few weeks and bids will be advertised, it was announced today. Bond issues of the Turlock and Modesto Irrigation district have provided $1,500,000 for the project. It will require approximately six months for the manufacture of the machinery and delivery is expected some time next May. The power house itself meanwhile will be constructed of reinforced concrete by the organization constructing the dam. Dam and power plant will be ready for complete operation early in 1925, it is expected.

MOTHERS' CONGRESS IS ATTENDED BY LOCAL WOMEN

Mrs. Harry Ewing, State Head of Organization, Makes Interesting Address

The October conference of the First District Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, which was held in Garfield hall, Walker Theatre building, 730 South Grand avenue, Los Angeles, yesterday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. proved to be a most interesting event, with a large representation of women present from all parts of Los Angeles county. Mrs. Harry Ewing of San Jose, state president, was guest of honor and principal speaker. Dr. Cady, a national worker in social hygiene, delighted the women with a lecture.

Various chairmen of the district conducted round table meetings with their committees and a community sing was greatly enjoyed. Those in attendance from Glendale were: District chairmen—Mrs. William Stofft, finance; Mrs. H. V. Henry, publicity; Mrs. W. A. Kulp, membership; Mrs. P. S. McNutt, parliamentarian; Mrs. John Robert White, federation president. Federation chairmen—Mrs. Pierson Hanning, membership; Mrs. Winona Crawford, patriotism; Mrs. Mabel Horner, philanthropy; Mrs. L. Aicholhz, visiting; Mrs. A. H. Brown, parliamentarian; Mrs. Percy Priaulx, treasurer. Association presidents—Mrs. L. E. Adams, Cerritos; Mrs. C. H. Thompson, Columbus; Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, Pacific; Mrs. E. S. McKee, Colorado. Association members—Mrs. Helen Sawyer, Mrs. F. G. Hartman, Mrs. R. V. Griffin, Mrs. Charles M. Cronkhite, Mrs. Kane and Mrs. Lewis.

CENSUS FIGURES ON STATE

WASHINGTON—According to the census of 1920, 23.8 per cent, or less than one-fourth of the people in the state of California are either infants or children under 15 years of age; 7.1 per cent are young people 15 to 19 years old; 42.6 per cent, over two-fifths, are men and women in the prime of life, being from 20 to 44 years old; while 26.2 per cent, being 45 years of age and over, are well along in middle life if they have not reached old age.

The urban population as compared with the rural shows some rather striking differences in age, the percentage 20 to 44 years of age being 44.2 for the urban population as compared with 39.3 for the rural, while the percentage under 15 years of age is 21.8 in the urban population as against 28.0 in the rural. These differences may indicate larger families of children in the country than in the city, but probably indicate also the fact that country children as they grow up have a tendency to flock to the cities thereby increasing the active adult population of the cities at the expense of the rural districts.

Just about two-thirds of the population, 67.6 per cent, are old enough to vote, being 21 or over; and in this class the men outnumber the women in the ratio of 117 to 100. The males of military or fighting age, 18 to 44, constitute 45.8 per cent of the male population and 24.2 per cent of the total population.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB FORMED IN GLENDALE

Committees on Constitution and Nominations Are Named at Meeting Yesterday

Another evidence of the progress and development of Glendale was displayed at the meeting last night of business and professional women and girls of this city which was held in the office of Mrs. Margaret Biggs, room 6, First National Bank building, for the purpose of effecting an organization, with Dr. Laura Brown as temporary chairman.

In the discussion which took place as to the aims and results of similar organizations in other cities, the idea was expressed that in Glendale an organization of this kind would do much towards making the new business women and girls who have recently come to Glendale from other cities feel more at home and become better acquainted. Some cities, it was stated, have courses of lectures on various subjects, others take up athletic and gymnasium work, some do philanthropic work, and all enjoy social evenings.

Committee on Constitution

A committee consisting of Mrs. Margaret Biggs, Miss Margaret Cross and Miss Sara Pollard was appointed to draft a constitution for the organization. At that time a nominating committee was also appointed, consisting of Mrs. Grace Yarbrough, Dr. Paine-Jackman and Mrs. Mary Baxter.

The next meeting of this proposed organization will be held next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. All business and professional women and girls of Glendale are urged to attend. Those who join within the next two weeks will be taken in as charter members.

WILD LIFE BEING STUDIED

YELLOWSTONE PARK — Wild life problems in the Yellowstone are for the first time being studied by an expedition from the Roosevelt Wild Life Forest Experiment Station, Syracuse, N. Y. Under the general direction of Dr. C. C. Adams, director of the station, five experts are giving particular attention to the trout and beaver. Prof. Robert A. Muttkowsky, University of Iowa, has been studying the proper feeding of trout, Dr. Gilbert Smith the relation of acquatic plants in the park to the fish food supply, Edward R. Warren and Ellis Spachman are mapping the dams and ponds of the beaver, and Dr. Edmund Heller of the Roosevelt African expedition, is studying the big game. Damage which beavers are reported to have done in the Adirondacks is also being investigated by the station, Dr. Adams announced.

MAKE PROTEST OVER NAME

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—Rattlesnake Point is a name unworthy of the site which commands one of the finest views along the Pacific coast in the estimation of the Chamber of Commerce. Substitute titles for the location on the highway near Algoma which has recently been improved as a scenic way-stop by the state highway commission, will be considered by the Chamber, it is announced. The names of "Inspiration Point" and "Sea View" have been barred from the competition.

SHOW SIGNS OF SANITY

SAN DIEGO—Twelve persons were present at the appointed time and place to attend the scheduled meeting of the Sanity league. They waited an hour, and no others arrived. Then the San Diego Sanity league, all members apparently present, adjourned—exhibiting, as the chairman remarked, its right to that title.

salary of $15 a month. But City Attorney Bert P. Woodard last night pointed out that the city charter prevents the salary of an elective office from being raised during his term of office. However, it was decided to further investigate, for the council agreed that Mr. Sherer was entitled to the increase under the promise made him.

Water Service Mains

Discussion of a proposed ordinance relative to assessing property owners for installation of water service mains took place during the council meeting last night and the measure was ordered further investigated by city officials. The ordinance as proposed follows the proposition voted favorable by the people at a "straw" ballot taken during a recent election.

Business Sewage District

Request of Mattison B. Jones and others for connection with the present sewage disposal proceedings in the business district so as to include Brand boulevard from Wilson to California was denied for the reason that the matter has already gone ahead to such an extent that to halt it would prove too expensive and cause at least a month's delay. It was pointed out the petitioners may form a separate district.

Request for Rest Home

Dr. Agnes E. Hanson filed written application for permission to conduct a rest home and milk diet cure at 1136 East Colorado. She was present last night and was advised by Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson to secure a favorable petition from property owners nearby. Meanwhile, the request was ordered sent to the health department for investigation and report.

Petition for Annexation

George A. Rhea filed a petition, signed by about twenty persons, asking for the annexation to Glendale of territory between this city and Burbank. The petition will be checked over. Meanwhile, Burbank interests are planning to annex a portion of the territory. It is claimed that Glendale has the first right.

Widening Howard Street

Property owners north of Broadway petitioned the city council for the widening of Howard between Broadway and a point 400 feet northerly therefrom. The signers represented 2,455 feet frontage. The petition was referred to the city engineer for checking.

Fund for Street Work

Councilman C. E. Kimlin asked concerning the ordinance establishing a $50,000 revolving fund for street work. He was told by City Attorney Bert P. Woodard that the necessary legal steps were being outlined and that a report would be made, probably at the next meeting of the council. The proposition will be submitted to a vote of the people.

Swimming Pool Bonds

Councilman A. H. Lapham made an inquiry concerning the swimming pool bonds. He was informed that the bonds had not yet been offered for sale. He urged the proceedings be hurried.

Widening Los Feliz Road

Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson urged that better progress be made in the proceedings for the widening of Los Feliz road. City Engineer Hill stated that the matter was proceeding satisfactorily.

Trees Will Stay There

The city forestry department reported that to remove large trees on Lomita avenue near Brand would cost the city about $2,500 and, too, the property owners are divided as to whether the trees should be removed. No action was taken beyond filing the report.

Sidewalks on Oak Street

City Engineer C. L. Hill reported on the petition for sidewalys on Oak west of Pacific. He said out of a frontage of 1750 feet, a total of 1250 had been signed up. The council ordered that the remaining property owners have an opportunity to sign, for it was decided the work will be done.

City Will Do Work

No bids were received for installing water mains in municipal district No. 4, which is located in Grand View so the city will do the work, it is planned.

Ordinances and Resolutions

Ordinance changing the name of Sixth street to Glenwood road was introduced.

Ordinance for the opening and widening of Raleigh street was adopted. Resolution ordering work done on Orange Grove avenue was adopted.

Ordinance declaring certain streets to be public boulevards and prohibiting heavy traffic thereon was held over for changes.

HOOCH HARMS CITY SEWER

SIERRAVILLE—Prohibition authorities will be asked to pay for repairs to the city sewers. The city claims that confiscated liquors, hooch and jackass brandy, poured into the sewer by the officers, removed the lining of the sewer for a distance of 304 feet. The liquor was disposed of in this manner by Marshal Massey and Assistant Marshal Pierce on the orders of Federal Commissioner Arnold. City officials, who happened to be examining the spot, discovered the damages.
